This Company having a Revenue from Premiums alone of One Hundred and Forty Thousand Pounds per Annum, is in a position to transact every description of LIFE ASSURANCE on as favourable terms as any other Company of equal standing.

Holders of Life Policies on the profit scale, who may hereafter fill confidential situations and require to be guaranteed, may secure considerable reductions in their life premiums, by making their life policies contingent on the continuance of fidelity.

Three fourths of the Profits are divisible amongst the Policy-holders on the "Profit Scale of Premiums," affording the advantages of Mutual Assurance, with the further security of a large subscribed capital, the prudent employment of which gives a greater ratio of increase to business and to profits than a purely Mutual Society can achieve.

Assurances are granted for £10,000 on a single life

Premiums may be paid in one sum, or yearly, or by half-yearly, or quarterly instalments.

Policies upon which five years' payments have been made, are purchased by the Society or the Policy-holders, if unable to continue paying, may receive fresh Policies in exchange (on which no further payment is required), equivalent to the then value of the Premiums already paid.

On Policies amounting to £200 and upwards for the whole of life, one-half of the Premium may remain unpaid at Interest for five years.

No extra Premium charged for voyage to and residence in any part of Europe, New Zealand, Australia (except at the "Diggings,") the Cape Colony, or British America.

This is the only Society transacting Life Assurance with Fidelity Guarantee, whose Policies of Guarantee are authorized (by Special Act of Parliament) to be accepted by Government.

The Guarantee Policies of this Society are accepted by the Treasury, Poor Law Board, and other public departments, and by the leading London and Provincial Joint-Stock and Private Banks, the principal Railway Companies, Life and Fire Offices, Public Companies, Institutions, and Commercial Firms throughout the Kingdom

With reference to the above Notice, it is hereby further notified that the following is the Bill referred to in the said Notice.

By order of the Board of Directors,

Graham's Town, April 30, 1868.

BILL

FOR

Defining and establishing the Constitution of the Joint-Stock Company or Copartnership called "The Eastern Province Bank."

WHEREAS the shareholders of the joint-stock company or copartnership, trading as bankers at Graham's Town and at Cradock, in this Colony, and called the "Eastern Province Bank," under the provisions of a certain deed of settlement, bearing date the 28th day of December, 1855, and certain supplements thereof, are desirous that the constitution of the said company should be defined and established by authority of Parliament: And whereas it is expedient so to do: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The deed of settlement aforesaid of the said bank, bearing date the 28th day of December, 1855, and all supplements thereto, and all acts or resolutions affecting the said deed of settlement or the constitution of the said bank, made, executed, or passed at any time before the taking effect of this Act, are (except as hereinafter excepted) hereby repealed, rescinded, and made void.

II. Notwithstanding the repeal aforesaid, every right or claim of or against the said company existing at the time of the taking effect of this Act, or arising from any transaction entered into before such time, shall survive for or against the said company as constituted under this Act, and shall to all intents and purposes be judged of as if the deeds, instruments, matters, and things by the last preceding section repealed, rescinded, and made void were still in full force and operation.

III. All property of every description, movable and immovable, rights, claims, credits, matters, and things, nothing excepted, which shall at the time of the taking effect of this Act belong to the said company, by being vested in the trustees thereof, in trust for the said company, shall, upon and from and after the taking effect of this Act, continue to belong to the said company, and become and be, under and by virtue of this Act, vested in the trustees of the said company appointed under the fifty-eighth section of this Act.

CAPITAL AND SHARES.

IV. The capital stock of the said company shall, as heretofore, consist of the sum of one hundred and twenty-one thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds sterling, raised and made up by and in respect of subscribed capital paid up upon and in respect of the shares in the next preceding section mentioned, and from moneys acquired and accumulated from the business hitherto conducted by the said company, of which sum of one hundred and twenty-one thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds sterling the sum of £——— is or forms the "reserve fund," all which said amount shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be held and applied for and on account of the said company, and may be increased in manner hereinafter provided.

V. The shares of the said company which are now in existence, and are in number three thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, of the value of twenty-five pounds sterling each, and upon each of which the sum of twenty-five pounds sterling has been fully paid up, shall continue to be the shares, for the time being, of the said company, and be and remain transferable progressively from No. 3,856, and shall be held by and belong to the existing shareholders of the said company, being the persons and entered in the schedule to this Act, marked A, mentioned and

VI. The directors of the said company may, with the previous consent [illegible] hereinafter mentioned, from time to time create such [illegible] other shares of twenty-five pounds sterling each as they shall deem advisable, not exceeding, however, in the whole, two thousand [illegible] and the said directors may from time to time sell or dispose of the same in such manner and upon such terms and under such regulations and conditions as they may think fit: Provided that no such further or other shares shall be created unless a majority of four fifths or upwards of the votes given at a general meeting of shareholders, convened under and in accordance with the twenty-fourth section of this Act, shall authorize the creation of such shares, and fix the maximum number which it shall be lawful to create: Provided, also, that the notice to be given of such general meeting shall specify the purpose for which it is called: Provided, further, that such additional shares shall not at any time be sold at a less rate than thirty-five pounds sterling for each and every such share, and such additional share or shares, when taken or purchased, shall subject the holders thereof to the same risks, liabilities, and engagements, and shall entitle them to the same benefits, rights, and privileges in respect thereof, as if such shareholders had been named in Schedule A, annexed to this Act.

VII. In case any person or persons who may purchase any such further or other share or shares in the said bank as aforesaid, or to whom the same may be allotted, shall fail to sign the deed or instrument hereinafter in and by the seventy-eighth section of this Act mentioned, within two calendar months after such sale, or after notice of allotment; or if any such person or persons shall make default in the payment of the purchase money of any such share or shares as aforesaid, or of any instalment or instalments thereof, within twenty-eight days after the same shall have become payable, or shall otherwise neglect or refuse to comply with the terms and conditions upon which the same were sold or allotted, then such person or persons shall forfeit to the company all right, title, and interest in and to the share and shares in respect of which any such default shall be made, and in and to all the money (if any) which shall have been previously paid thereon. And thereupon the directors for the time being, if they think fit, shall, in the place of such forfeited share or shares, create a new share or shares, which shall be sold or otherwise disposed of to some other person who will comply with the several conditions and provisions of these presents: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the said directors from empowering and requiring the trustees for the time being of the said company to bring and maintain their action against any such defaulter, if the said directors shall think fit so to do, instead of declaring such share or shares to be forfeited as aforesaid; whereupon the said trustees shall bring and maintain such action accordingly.

VIII. No person shall be holder of more than two hundred shares in the aforesaid capital stock in his own right: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person from holding, in addition thereto, such shares as he may become entitled to by inheritance bequest, gift, marriage, or as executor, administrator, or other legal representative of a deceased shareholder.

IX. No person shall be entitled, in his capacity as guardian of, or trustee for, any minor or number of minors, to become the holder at any time of more than one hundred shares, in the whole, for such minors; and any person who shall become the holder of any share or shares as guardian or trustee for any minor shall be personally liable to pay any calls or claims which may accrue on account thereof, so long as the person for whom he shall hold the same shall remain under age.

X. In no case shall more than one person be permitted to become a shareholder in respect of any share in the capital of the said company, it being the true intent and meaning of this Act that two or more persons shall not be allowed to become jointly shareholders in respect of any share or shares.

XI. The directors shall cause the names and additions of all present and future shareholders, and the shares belonging to every shareholder, and the proper number of each share, to be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, to be called the "Share Registry Book;" and the certificates held by the shareholders mentioned in the schedule hereto annexed, marked A, shall stand good for, and continue to represent, the existing shares aforesaid of the said company; and in respect of any further or other shares which may hereafter be created under the provisions of this Act, the directors shall cause to be delivered to the persons entitled to the same an extract from such book, by way of certificate, signed by any three of the directors, and which certificate shall at all times be deemed sufficient evidence of the interest in such share of the respective parties to whom the same shall be granted; and the said certificate shall be in the form following, that is to say:

No. ——— £25.

XV. All transfers of shares shall be made by endorsement upon the certificate, specifying the person to whom the same is transferred: Provided, however, that no such endorsement shall be valid to transfer any interest in, or profit or title to, any share, or any dividend, profit, or advantage arising therefrom, until such endorsement shall have been duly registered at the said bank, and three of the directors shall have certified such registration upon the said certificate, and that they consent to such transfer.

XVI. On any person ceasing to be a shareholder of the company in respect of all or any of the shares held by him, and on any person becoming a proprietor of any share or shares in the capital of the said company, the directors shall cause all such entries to be made in the share registry book as shall be necessary, in order that the said book may at all times show who are the shareholders for the time being of the company, and the number of shares held by each of the shareholders, and the proper number of each share held by each of the shareholders for the time being.

XVII. Every shareholder whose share or shares shall have been transferred to any other person in manner hereinbefore mentioned shall be released and discharged, as between himself and the other shareholders, from all and every liability, claim, and demand whatsoever to which he would have been liable in respect of such share or shares in case such share or shares had not been transferred.

XVIII. The directors shall from time to time, and at all times hereafter, make such further rules, orders, and regulations respecting the transfer of shares, and by whom the same shall be prepared, and whether any, and what, charge to and in favour of the bank shall be payable thereon, as shall appear to them necessary and advisable for the security and advantage of the company and the due transference of the said shares; and all transfers, sales, or assignments of any share or shares in the company which shall not be made conformably to the provisions of this Act, and according to the regulations of the directors, shall, as regards the said bank, be null and void.

GENERAL MEETINGS.

XIX. A general meeting of the shareholders shall be held at the banking-house of the said bank, in Graham's Town, or at such other place in Graham's Town as the directors of the said company may appoint, upon the last Wednesday in the month of January in each year, and every such meeting shall be called the "annual general meeting."

XX. At every annual general meeting the directors shall lay before the shareholders a general statement of, and report on, the affairs of the said company, to be made up to, and inclusive of, the 31st day of December in each year.

XXI. Every annual general meeting shall have full power to superintend, regulate, and control all the affairs and concerns of the said bank: Provided that it shall not be competent for any shareholder at any annual general meeting to propose any gift of money or increase of salary to any officer of the bank, unless such gift or increase shall have been recommended to such meeting by the board of directors. Any resolution passed in contravention of this section shall be null and void.

XXII. The directors may at any time call a general meeting of the shareholders, for the purpose of submitting to their consideration any question or matter concerning the interests of the bank.

XXIII. The directors shall call a general meeting of the shareholders whenever required so to do by a requisition in writing, to be left at the office of the bank, in which the object for which such meeting is required to be called shall be stated, and which requisition shall be signed by not less than fifteen of the shareholders, each of whom shall have been a shareholder of the bank for at least three months before the day on which such requisition shall be lodged, and which requisitionists shall be entitled, in the whole, to not less than forty votes. Every such meeting shall be called upon a notice, to be issued within twenty-eight days next after such requisition shall have been so lodged as aforesaid.

XXVIII. The minutes of the proceedings of every meeting of the shareholders shall be entered in a proper book to be kept for that purpose, and the same shall be signed by the chairman presiding at such meeting.

XXIX. Should the shareholders at any meeting be unable to come at once to a decision upon any question duly brought before them, or should the scrutineers hereafter mentioned be unable to declare the result of any ballot on the day on which the meeting shall be held, or should any other circumstance make an adjournment desirable, it shall be competent for the chairman, upon motion made and question put, to adjourn such meeting to such future day and hour as the majority of shareholders present shall, by a show of hands, determine.

XXX. No business shall be transacted at any meeting of shareholders, not being the annual general meeting, other than the special business for which it shall have been called, and no other business shall be transacted at any adjourned general meeting, whether the annual general meeting or not, except the business left unfinished at the meeting at which such adjournment took place.

XXXVIII. The board of directors for the management of the said company shall consist of seven members, namely, Frederik Calder Bate, Edward Booth, George Wood the Younger, Henry Blaine, Philip William Lucas, William Haw, and William Attwell Richards, the present directors, who shall continue in office until the annual general meeting to be held in the year 1869: Provided that at such lastmentioned meeting Frederik Calder Bate and Edward Booth shall go out of office and be succeeded by two others to be then elected; and that at the annual general meeting to be held in 1870, George Wood the Younger and Henry Blaine shall go out of office and be succeeded by two others to be then elected; and that at the annual general meeting to be held in 1871, the remaining three of the directors aforesaid shall go out of office, and be succeeded by three others to be then elected. And provided that afterwards, for ever, two directors, being the two then longest in office, shall go out of office every year, except every third year, when three directors shall go out of office; and that all directors going out of office at any annual general meeting shall be succeeded by an equal number to be elected by such meeting: Provided, also, that nothing herein contained shall at any time prevent the outgoing directors, or any of them, from being eligible for re-election.

XXXIX. XL. In case the conduct of any particular director shall at any time be such that his continuance in office shall appear to at least twenty of the proprietors of the said company entitled to vote to be prejudicial to the interests of the company, and that notice thereof shall be given to the directors for the time being, in writing, the said board shall be required, and they are hereby directed, without any delay, to call a general meeting of the shareholders for the purpose of determining whether such particular director shall continue in office: Provided, always, that twenty-one days' notice shall be given of such meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called, in any two or more of the local newspapers; and it shall and may be lawful for a majority of the shareholders at such meeting to remove such director from his office, and his place shall be filled up in the manner provided by the forty-fifth section of this Act.

XLI. The senior director for the time being shall be the chairman of the board, and shall preside at all meetings of directors and of shareholders, and in his absence the director present whose name shall stand next on the list of directors shall preside: Provided, always, that in the event of the senior director for the time being refusing or declining to be and act as the chairman of the board of directors, it shall be competent for the said directors to choose from among themselves a chairman who shall be and act as such, in the place and stead of the said senior director, during the time for which that senior director would otherwise have been the chairman.

XLII. All questions that shall come before any meeting of directors shall be decided by a majority of votes of the directors present, and in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall, in addition to his original vote, have a casting vote.

XLIII. At every annual general meeting the proprietors shall elect by ballot, out of such of the shareholders as shall be qualified in manner hereinbefore provided, such number of persons to be directors as may be required to fill up the vacancies of those who may have gone out of office in manner also hereinbefore provided: Provided, always, that no person shall be balloted for unless he shall have been proposed by one proprietor and seconded by another proprietor qualified to vote, and unless notice shall have been given to the directors, in writing, signed by two such shareholders, that such person will be proposed as a director, at least thirty-one days previous to the day on which such election is to take place.

XLIV. Not less than twenty-one days before the annual election shall take place, notice thereof shall be given by the directors, by advertisement in any two or more of the local newspapers, and the said directors shall at the same time notify the names of such persons as shall have been duly put in nomination to be balloted for at the then next ensuing annual general meeting to fill up the vacancies which will then take place: Provided that as often as the persons nominated shall not exceed in number the vacancies to be filled up, no ballot shall be necessary, and the persons nominated shall be declared duly elected.

XLV. Upon any casual vacancy occurring in the board of directors in any way or manner hereinbefore set forth, the directors shall convene a special general meeting of shareholders for the purpose of electing a director to fill up such vacancy, notice whereof shall be given by advertisement in one or more of the local papers in the twenty-fourth section mentioned, at least forty-two days before such meeting is held; and such election shall take place in manner and subject to the regulations hereinbefore provided for the ordinary election of directors at the annual general meetings; and such director elected to fill any casual vacancy shall continue in office until the expiration of the period for which the director occasioning any vacancy in manner aforesaid would otherwise have remained in the direction: Provided that the directors shall, in and by the notice to be given by them as aforesaid, fix some day, not later than fourteen days next before the day appointed for the meeting, upon which day, so fixed, nominations of candidates shall in manner aforesaid be sent in, and shall forthwith, upon receipt of any such nominations, announce, by publication in the same papers as published the original notice, the names of the persons nominated: Provided, also, that the concluding proviso of the forty-fourth section shall extend and apply to any such election as is in this section mentioned.

XLVI. The directors shall meet at the banking-house of the said bank on such days in each week as they shall from time to time resolve and appoint as fit and convenient for the dispatch of the general business of the bank.

XLVII. Three or more directors shall constitute a quorum or board for the management of the affairs of the said bank.

XLVIII. The directors shall appoint a manager, a cashier, an accountant, and such clerks and other assistants as they may deem necessary for transacting the affairs and business of the bank, and shall require them, and every of them, respectively to give security to the satisfaction of the said directors for the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective offices, and may also discharge any such manager, cashier, accountant, clerk, or other assistant, and appoint another in his room and stead.

XLIX. No such manager, cashier, accountant, clerk, or other assistants as aforesaid shall be allowed to carry on or be engaged in any kind of trade, business, or agency whatever, either directly or indirectly, or shall be allowed to act as agent or broker, or trustee in any insolvent estate; but all such persons shall (unless in so far as they may be permitted by the directors to employ themselves at other than bank hours in some other occupation) confine themselves exclusively to the duties of their respective offices.

L. The directors are hereby authorized and empowered to pay such salaries, wages, and allowances to such manager, cashier, accountant, clerks, and other assistants as they shall think fit and reasonable, and also to pay all such expenses and disbursements as may be requisite and necessary to enable them to carry on the business of the bank.

LI. The chairman and directors shall receive out of the clear profits of the bank such sum or sums of money, by way of remuneration for their services and trouble, as the majority of the shareholders shall by resolution determine at the annual general meeting.

LII. Any director having any interest other than his interest as a shareholder in the question under discussion at any meeting of the board of directors shall not be allowed to vote in the decision by the other directors present, provided they be sufficient to form a quorum, and provided that such question in which such director shall be concerned shall stand over until there be a proper quorum, in case the other directors then present shall not be a quorum.

LIII. The minutes of the proceedings at any board or meeting of the directors shall be entered in a book and signed by the chairman, or by the director acting as chairman, of every such board or meeting.

LIV. All acts which may be done by a quorum of the directors present at any meeting of the directors during any vacancy in the number of the directors shall be as valid and effectual as if the number of directors had been complete.

LV. Each of the present and future directors shall, previously to entering upon the duties of his office, sign a declaration in a book kept for that purpose, that he will not reveal or make known any of the matters, affairs, or concerns which may come to his knowledge as a director of the bank, to any person or persons whomsoever, except when lawfully called upon in a court of justice, or when officially required by the board of directors for the time being, or by any general meeting of the proprietors; and the directors for the time being shall require the manager, cashier, accountant, and other clerks and assistants employed in the bank to sign a like declaration.

LVI. Subject and without prejudice to the power hereinbefore given to general meetings of shareholders, the directors for the time being shall have the entire management and superintendence of the company and of the affairs and business of the bank, and shall in all cases provided for by this Act, or hereafter to be provided for by any general meeting, act in strict conformity to the laws and regulations hereby established, or hereafter to be established by the general meetings of the shareholders, and generally, where this Act is silent and does not otherwise provide, to act in the direction of the concerns of the company in such manner as at their absolute discretion they shall think most conducive to the interests of the company, and for that purpose to make, do, and execute all such deeds, matters, and things whatsoever as may be requisite and expedient in that behalf; and the directors shall and may from time to time, and at all times, make such rules, orders, regulations, and by-laws as to them shall seem just and expedient for the general management and government of the business and affairs of the company, provided that the same be not contrary to law, or repugnant to any of the provisions of this Act; which said rules, orders, regulations and by-laws, when made, shall be posted in some public and conspicuous part of the banking-house of the company for the period of fourteen days, and if not objected to in writing by at least ten of the shareholders during that period, the same shall then become binding upon the several shareholders and directors of the company. But in the event of such rules, orders, regulations, and by-laws, or any of them, being objected to as aforesaid, the directors shall either abandon the same or submit them to a general meeting of the shareholders, and if then adopted and approved of by a majority of the shareholders present, the same shall become binding upon the company: Provided, always, that the shareholders may at any time, by a majority of votes taken by ballot at any general meeting, repeal any one or more of the said rules, orders, regulations, and by-laws, if they shall see fit so to do.

LVII. The said directors may authorize and require the trustees hereinafter appointed to hire or purchase any immovable property, and to cause to be built any house, offices, or other premises which they may consider to be necessary for the purposes of the company and for carrying on the business of the bank; and it shall be lawful for the said directors, having previously obtained the consent of the majority of the shareholders at any general meeting, to authorize the said trustees to sell and dispose of the same at such price and in such manner as such meeting shall see fit.

OF THE TRUSTEES.

LVIII. The trustees of the bank shall never consist of more or less than three; and the following persons, to wit, George Wood the Younger, William Haw, and ——— (who have been duly appointed to be the trustees of the bank), shall continue to be, and they are hereby declared to be, the trustees for the time being of the said bank.

LIX. All property to which the company is or may become entitled shall be, and be deemed to be in law, the property of the trustees for the time being of the said bank, and shall be treated and considered as such in all legal proceedings whatsoever.

LX. The trustees aforesaid, and the trustees of the said bank for the time being, in whom any of the funds or property of the bank shall for the time being be vested, shall stand possessed of the same in trust for the company, and shall apply and dispose of the same for the benefit of the company in such manner as the board of directors shall, conformably to the duties imposed on them by this Act, from time to time order and direct.

LXI. All right and title of the shareholders of the said bank in and to their shares are hereby declared to be vested in the trustees for the time being, in trust and for the benefit of the shareholders for the time being; and the said trustees, and all others who shall in manner hereinafter provided be appointed as such, are and shall at all times, upon being authorized and directed to that effect by the directors for the time being, be competent to make and conclude and take and accept of all purchases, sales, demises, leases, securities, contracts, and agreements whatsoever, for the benefit of the shareholders, according to the provisions herein contained; and shall, upon being so authorized and directed, be competent to sue for and recover all moneys, debts, goods, and effects whatsoever due and belonging to the said company, also to compound for or release, and shall accordingly compound for or release, any debt or demand in favour of any debtor, and further shall prosecute or defend any action or suit in respect of any sums of money or other debts, duty, right, matter, or thing whatsoever relative to the concerns of the said company, or may discontinue the same, or compromise or leave to abitration, and shall accordingly compromise or leave to abitration, any matter or question in dispute, or otherwise act therein as the directors shall deem most advisable for the interests of the company; and the receipts or other acts and deeds of the said trustees, or of the trustees for the time being, relative to all or any of the matters aforesaid, shall be good, absolute, and sufficient discharges and exonerations and indemnities to or for any vendor or purchaser, or other person whomsoever, by, to, or with whom any sale, purchase, contract, agreement, rent, moneys, or securities for money, shall be made or given: Provided, however, that the authority hereby given to and trust vested in the said trustees shall not extend, or be deemed to extend, to interfere with the powers and privileges of the shareholders or the directors as provided by any clause or clauses of this Act, relative to the management of the affairs of the said bank, or with the transfer of shares, as provided for in the fourteenth section of this Act.

LXII. In case any one or more of the trustees for the time being shall become insolvent, or shall assign his estate for the benefit of his creditors, or shall not be the holder of twenty shares at the least in his own right; or in case any such trustee shall resign his office; or in case the directors, by a resolution of the board, shall require any one or more of the said trustees to relinquish his or their office; or in case any of them shall happen to die, or shall be absent from the Colony for a longer period than twelve calendar months, then, and in any such case, the office of such trustee or trustees shall be deemed to have become vacant, and all his or their right and title thereto to have ceased and determined, in such manner as if such trustee or trustees, or his or their representative or representatives, had with the consent and approbation of the shareholders and directors relinquished such office, and had with such consent and approbation assigned and transferred his or their right and title to such office to another trustee or trustees; and thereupon the directors for the time being shall, by a resolution of the board, signed by the chairman, nominate and appoint another person or persons duly qualified as aforesaid to be a trustee or trustees in his and their place and stead; and it shall and may be lawful for the trustee or trustees then remaining, and they are hereby required, to join and concur in doing, executing, and performing all such acts and deeds, if any, as shall be requisite and necessary towards effecting a transfer or assignment of the right and title to and in such office to the joint names of the remaining or surviving or any such new trustee or trustees, in such effectual manner as that the same may be legally vested in them; or if no trustee shall then remain, it shall and may be lawful for any three of the directors for the time being, to be for that purpose chosen by the board of directors, and who shall be deemed to be the trustees for that purpose, to join and concur together in doing and performing all such acts and deeds as shall be requisite and necessary towards effecting, in such effectual manner as aforesaid, a transfer and assignment of their right and title to and in such office to such three persons duly qualified as aforesaid, and whom the board of directors shall have nominated to be new trustees; and such trustee or trustees, in whose name or names such right and title to and in such office shall be transferred and assigned, shall be, and are hereby authorized and empowered to act therein in like manner as the trustees herein named are authorized and empowered.

OF THE BUSINESS OF THE BANK.

LXIII. The business of the said Eastern Province Bank, as well as its several branches established, or hereafter to be established, in pursuance of these presents, shall consist in and be confined to banking in all its branches, in the keeping of cash accounts, and receiving deposits, and issuing and circulating cash notes, in the discounting of bills of exchange, acceptances, promissory notes, and bonds, and other negotiable securities, public or private, in the giving of cash credits upon such terms as to the directors may seem advisable, in the purchase of bullion and dealing therein, and in making advances upon the same, or upon goods or other property which shall have been bonâ fide deposited as securities, and in selling or causing to be sold such goods or securities, as shall not have been redeemed according to the terms of such deposit; but in no case whatever shall the said company engage in any manner or description of trade or mercantile business.

LXIV. The head or chief office of the said company shall be at the banking-house of the said company, in Graham's Town, and the business shall be carried on there, and at such other place or places at which the directors may from time to time deem it expedient to continue any branch bank, or at which any new branch may be established according to the provisions of the sixty-eighth section of this Act.

LXV. The directors may, at any time when it shall seem to them to be beneficial, allow interest, after such rate and upon such conditions as they shall by any regulation determine, upon any sum or sums of money deposited in the said bank.

LXVI. The directors may from time to time cause to be issued promissory notes, payable in Graham's Town or elsewhere, in British sterling money, or in the legal currency of the Colony, of such value and to such amount as they shall deem fit and expedient, not exceeding, however, double the amount of the paid-up capital of the bank, which notes shall be signed by such of the officers of the bank as the directors shall from time to time appoint.

LXVII. The directors shall be bound to see that the provisions of the "Joint-Stock Banks Statements Act, 1865," are duly complied with by the company hereby established.

LXVIII. The directors may, by and with the consent of a majority of two thirds of the shareholders at any general meeting, notice whereof shall be given in manner hereinbefore provided by the twenty-fourth section of this Act, establish branch banks in any district of this Colony, and further the directors may, upon such terms as shall be directed and expressed by any resolution passed by any general meeting of the shareholders, duly convened for that purpose, amalgamate with, or purchase or acquire the business or property of, any joint-stock banking company in any division of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, and upon such terms and conditions as a majority of two thirds or upwards of the votes given at a general meeting of shareholders, convened under the provisions of the twenty-fourth section of this Act, shall approve of and determine; and in case this company shall be amalgamated with any other banking company, in accordance with the powers for that purpose herein contained, the directors of the Eastern Province Bank shall be, and they are hereby empowered to make, do, and execute all deeds, instruments, matters, and things necessary for carrying such amalgamation into effect.

LXIX. The dividends to be paid to the shareholders of the company, and the time or times when the same shall become payable, shall be determined by the directors, and be declared by them at the annual general meeting: Provided, however, that out of the actual profits of the bank, one tenth part thereof, at least, shall be annually set apart and retained, and added to the reserve fund of the bank in existence at the time of the taking effect of this Act, and so from year to year continue to be added, until by such additions the said reserve fund shall amount to ten thousand pounds sterling; after which, and so long as such reserve fund shall not fall under the said sum of ten thousand pounds sterling, no further amount shall be accumulated or added thereto, but all the profits of the bank realized upon the entire capital stock thereof may, in the discretion of the directors be divisible amongst the shareholders, as hereinbefore mentioned: Provided, always, that if after such sum of ten thousand pounds sterling shall have been once made up, it should so happen that the reserve fund should fall below the said sum of ten thousand pounds sterling, then, and so long as the reserve fund shall remain under that sum, one tenth part of the annual profits shall be set apart and added thereto, until the reserve fund shall again amount to that sum, and as soon as the sum of ten thousand pounds sterling shall again be made up, then no further amount shall be added thereto, and the whole of the profits of the year may, in the discretion of the directors, be divisible as aforesaid; and such reserve fund shall be carried to a separate account in the books of the bank, and shall be reserved and applied to meet any unforeseen emergency, as also, so far as circumstances will permit, to prevent or diminish fluctuations in the amount of the annual dividends to be declared by the directors, and also, at the discretion of the directors, to supply means of extending the operations of the bank; and the said reserve fund and the interest thereof shall be applied by the directors for all or any of the several purposes aforesaid, at their absolute discretion.

LXX. All such dividends as may be in manner aforesaid declared out of the profits of the company shall be payable at the banking-house of the said bank on such day or days in each year as the directors shall appoint.

LXXI. The directors shall cause all necessary and proper books of account to be kept at the banking-house of the said bank, and shall cause to be written in such books true, plain, and perfect entries of all receipts, payments, transactions, and dealings by or on behalf of the bank, and of all profits, gains, and losses arising therefrom; and shall on the 31st day of December in each year cause the said books to be properly settled, adjusted, and balanced: Provided, always, that no shareholder or other person, not being a director or officer of the said bank, shall, on any pretence whatever, be permitted to have access to or to inspect the said books.

LXXII. All notices required to be given by the directors, the manner of giving which is not herein specially provided for, shall be given by public advertisement, addressed to the shareholders of the bank, and signed by the chairman for the time being, and inserted in any one or more of the local newspapers.

DURATION OF THE BANK.

LXXIII. The said bank shall continue for and during the period of twenty-one years, to be computed from the 20th day of January, 1856, unless otherwise determined, as provided by the seventy-seventh section of this Act: Provided, however, that at the annual general meeting which shall be holden in the year 1877, it shall and may be lawful for a majority of the votes of shareholders, given at such meeting, to extend the continuance of the bank for a period not exceeding fourteen years, and the resolution of the said meeting to that effect shall be effectually binding on the whole of the shareholders; and it shall and may be lawful for the shareholders in like manner afterwards to extend the continuance of the bank from time to time for a period not exceeding fourteen years at any one time: Provided, always, that if at any time the losses of the said bank shall have exhausted all the reserve fund and also one fourth of the paid-up capital, then the directors shall forthwith call a special general meeting of the shareholders, in manner provided by the twenty-fourth section of this Act, and shall submit to such meeting a full and general statement of the affairs and concerns of the bank; and thereupon the bank shall be dissolved, unless a majority of the votes of the shareholders given at such meeting shall resolve to continue and carry on the said bank, and the shareholders resolving upon such continuance shall, by themselves or their proxies (as the case may be), then and there undertake in writing to indemnify the dissentient shareholders against all the existing debts and engagements of the bank and to purchase the shares of such dissentient shareholders at such amount, in respect of every such share, as shall be determined by the arbitrament and award, to be made in writing within such period as shall by the proprietors present or represented by proxies be fixed, of two indifferent persons, whereof one shall be chosen by the shareholders who shall have resolved to continue and carry on the said bank, and the other by the dissentient shareholders: Provided that, should such persons so chosen not agree upon their arbitrament and award, then they shall appoint any other indifferent person to be umpire in the determination to be made concerning the premises, and whose award and umpirage shall be conclusive upon each and all of the shareholders.

LXXIV. If, in any case, any difference shall arise between the company on the one hand, and any of the shareholders, their heirs, executors, or assigns, on the other hand, touching the true construction or the incidents or consequences of these presents, or of the sections, or touching anything then to be thereafter done, executed, omitted, or suffered in pursuance of these presents, or any of the sections thereof, or touching any breach or alleged breach of these presents, or any claim on account of any such breach or alleged breach of these presents, or otherwise relating to the premises, or these presents, or to the sections, or to any of the affairs of the company, every such difference shall be referred to arbitration, as is hereinbefore in the last preceding section provided; and if either party do not, within seven days after being thereto requested, in writing, by the other party or his agent, name an arbitrator, then both arbitrators shall be named by the party by whom, or by whose agent, the request was made.

GENERAL CLAUSES.

LXXV. The several shareholders, their heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, shall not in any case or event, as between themselves, be answerable or liable for or in respect of the debts, losses, or other demands upon the said company to an amount exceeding that of the share or shares possessed by such shareholders respectively.

LXXVI. In all actions, suits, or other proceedings at law brought, commenced, carried on, and prosecuted by the said trustees or the said directors, or any other person or persons on behalf of the said bank, against any shareholder or shareholders thereof, and in all actions, suits, or other legal proceedings brought, commenced, carried on, and prosecuted by any shareholder or shareholders against the said trustees or the said directors or other officer for the time being of the said bank, the partnership hereby established shall form no bar to such action, suit, or other legal proceeding being carried on and proceeded in.

LXXVII. The chairman, directors, and trustees of the said bank, and each and every of them, shall be indemnified and saved harmless out of the funds and property of the bank, and the several shareholders shall be bound and obliged rateably and in proportion to the shares they possess, at all times to save them harmless and indemnified from and against all costs, charges, losses, damages, and expenses which they or any of them, their or any of their executors or administrators, shall or may incur or sustain by reason or in consequence of any contract or engagement into which they may enter in behalf of the company, or any action, suit, or other proceeding, either at law or in equity, relating to any such contract or engagement, or in or about any matter or thing whatsoever, or in any wise relating to the affairs and business of the bank: Provided, always, that such losses, costs, charges, damages, and expenses shall not have been sustained or occasioned by his, their, or either of their wilful neglect or default.

LXXVIII. It shall and may be lawful for the proprietors entitled to vote at any general special meeting to be held for that purpose, of which notice shall be given by the directors six weeks before the same shall take place, to be inserted in any one or more of the local newspapers as the directors may deem to be expedient, whenever so required to do by a requisition in writing setting forth the purposes for which the meeting is required to be held, signed by not less than twenty-five proprietors holding in the whole not less than fifty votes, to repeal, alter, amend, modify, annul, or make void any section of this Act: Provided, always, that not less than four fifths of the votes of shareholders given at such meeting shall concur in the same; and provided, further, that in the event of any alteration being so made as aforesaid whereby the bank shall be dissolved at some date earlier than the date at which it would otherwise have been dissolved by effluxion of time, then the claims of any shareholders dissenting from such dissolution should be settled in manner and form as hereinbefore in section seventy-three of this Act is provided.

LXXIX. The persons, trusts, or estates set forth and declared in and by the schedule hereunto annexed, marked A, shall be held and considered to be the present shareholders of the said company; and all other persons who may hereafter become shareholders shall be required and bound to sign and execute a deed or instrument in the form or to the effect following:

"We, the undersigned, do hereby severally, and each for himself, acknowledge and declare that we have become shareholders in the Eastern Province Bank; and we hereby bind and oblige ourselves severally to abide, perform, and fulfil the duties and obligations enjoined upon or required from the shareholders thereof, under and by virtue of the provisions of Act No. —, entitled 'An Act for defining and establishing the Constitution of the Joint Stock Company or Copartnership, called 'The Eastern Province Bank,'' and all such other provisions as may from time to time be duly made under authority of the said Act."

LXXX. In the construction of this Act, unless there be something in the context repugnant thereto, any word denoting the singular number or the male sex shall be deemed to extend to any number of persons, places, and things, and to both sexes; that the word "directors," and the word "trustees," and the word "shareholders," and the word "proprietors," whenever the same may occur, shall be taken to mean, respectively, the directors, trustees, shareholders, or proprietors for the time being of the bank hereby established; that the words "local newspapers" shall be taken to mean any of the newspapers published in Graham's Town; that the word "company" and the word "bank" shall be taken to mean the joint-stock company and bank hereby established; and generally, that all and every part of this Act shall be construed and understood in the plain and ordinary and common sense meaning of the language used; and if any reasonable doubt shall happen to arise as to the true interpretation of any part thereof, the bank shall, as against any individual shareholder, have the benefit of such doubt.

LXXXI. This Act shall be deemed and taken to be a public Act, and shall be judicially taken notice of as such by all judges, magistrates, and others, without being specially pleaded.

LXXXII. Nothing in this Act shall be taken or construed so as to incorporate the said company or to limit the liability of the shareholders thereof.

No. 4,015

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE

Government Gazette.

Published by Authority.

FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1868.

Government-house, 20th May, 1868.

THIS DAY His Excellency the Governor opened the Fifth Session of the Third Parliament of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope,—the Legislative Council and House of Assembly being assembled in the State Room at Government-house,—and His Excellency was pleased to deliver the following Speech:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL:

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY:

It is with much pleasure that I find that the time has arrived when I may again seek your advice and assistance in the Annual Session of the Colonial Legislature.

I am now enabled to lay before you the Accounts of the Revenue and Expenditure of the past year. And you will find that in their general results they correspond very closely with the calculations made at the time of the preparation of the Estimates. The Revenue, which was reckoned at £610,000, has actually amounted to £617,000. The chief items on which the Estimate has been exceeded are: Customs, £10,000, Land Revenue, £9,000, Transfer Dues, £2,000, Interest and Premiums, £6,000, Land Sales, £5,000; while there has been a falling off, on the other hand, of £29,000 on the Reimbursements due to Government, attributable entirely to the non-payment of the Railway Sub-guarantee.

The Expenditure, which was estimated at £675,000, has really amounted to £671,000. The chief items in excess are, Hospitals £6,000, owing to the payment of arrears of former years, and the special charges incurred with your sanction for arresting the spread of disease, and for the relief of the destitute; Miscellaneous, £9,000, for services of various descriptions; Military Allowances, £10,000, in consequence of two annual payments having been brought to account in 1867.

The chief savings will be found under the heads of Mounted Police, £5,000, and Convict Department, £15,000.

In the Estimate of Expenditure to be now submitted for your sanction, the total charges for the year have been calculated at £638,000, or £33,000 below those incurred in last year.

The principal items on which we look to effecting this reduction are those of the Convict Department and the Police and Gaols. Many circumstances combine, in our opinion, to justify this expectation. An abundance of food throughout almost every division of the Colony has, as was to be expected, produced a striking diminution of the ordinary offences against property. Above all, there can be no doubt that the more frequent recourse to the imposition of spare diet is telling powerfully upon the lower orders of offenders. The efficiency of this punishment consists in its extreme severity; and while I have no disposition to discourage the due application of it, I am bound to observe that a heavy responsibility rests on the Government, on the Judges, on the Magistrates, and on the Medical Officers in charge of Gaols for guarding against any improper or excessive infliction of such sentences. The Government adheres to its opinion that the diet of prisoners under long sentences and at hard labour cannot safely be made the subject of experiment; and they have not deemed it their duty to make any change in such cases.

The reductions made under other heads do not call for any special notice on the present occasion.

The Government has on this occasion abstained as far as practicable from proposing any additions to Salaries or other ordinary charges, and there is but one proposal of that nature to which I need advert. We hope to obtain your approval to an addition of £100 per annum to the salaries of eight officers holding the appointments of Resident Magistrate and Civil Commissioner on £400 a year in the Divisions of Calvinia, Hope Town, Victoria West, Albert, Richmond, Fraserburg, Middelburg, and Murraysburg.

I can assure you, without hesitation, that in these cases their present salaries are entirely inadequate to maintain them in that proper position of independence and respectability in which it is most desirable, in the interest of the Government and of the several communities, that they should be placed. House rent and many of the necessaries of life are very dear. The means of obtaining education for their families are procurable only at a heavy cost. You will find too, that, owing to the changing condition of the Colony, many of these Divisions produce a larger revenue, and entail on the officers in charge of them a much greater amount of responsibility and labour, than many of the older Divisions, to which the higher class of salaries is attached. And it is from some of these new Divisions that we now hope to obtain a considerable accession of Revenue by the utilization of the Crown Lands. I trust, therefore, that your assent to these changes will not be withheld.

The Government has not felt warranted in estimating the Revenue for the current year at a larger sum than £613,000, or £4,000 less than the amount actually realized in 1867. The item in which the principal falling off is anticipated is that of the Customs; which is expected to give only £300,000, against £330,000 in last year.

Notwithstanding that it has pleased Providence to favour almost every District of the Colony with more genial seasons than have been experienced for several years, it is, I fear, beyond dispute that the revival of the commercial and agricultural interests proceeds very slowly. I think, indeed, that the embarrassments of the Government, its debt, the causes of it, and the difficulties it experiences in providing for the Public Service, may fairly be regarded as the reflection of the condition of the community at large. Some years ago the Government was disposed, and was encouraged to make great efforts for the development of the Colony. Money was freely borrowed, large undertakings were commenced, Immigration was actively promoted, the Public Establishments were extended and increased. While all this was in progress, private individuals entered on a similar course. Great expectations were formed of the profits to be derived from agriculture; prices far in excess of its real value were given for land; it was not difficult to borrow money on the Mortgage of Farms; and for some years the Growers of Wool seem from excessive competition to have received for their produce more than its real value. At the same time a great change appears to have been gradually brought about in the habits and manners of the population. A general desire for the accompaniments of a higher state of civilization, involving a necessity for ready money previously unknown, made itself manifest The reaction has now come, and the pressure of encumbrances is very painful. It is not within the power of the Government or of the Legislature to provide a remedy. That can only be found in a long course of patient and persevering industry and submission to many privations. While the pressure lasts, the Government must, I think, continue to be conducted on the most economical principles. It is easy to find in every direction objects on which money could be spent to the satisfaction of those in the vicinity. But it will be the duty of the Government, in the interest of all, to deny itself the pleasure of yielding to local solicitations, and to trust to the general support of the whole community in the exercise of a wise parsimony.

I have shown that the Estimate of Revenue falls short of that of the Expenditure by £25,000; but this deficiency is not, in the opinion of the Government, of sufficient magnitude to warrant proposals unacceptable to Parliament, either of additional taxation or for raising a further permanent Loan. They hope that with your support they may in time be enabled to provide for the authorized services of the country from the means which will gradually come within their reach. Above all, they trust to obtain a large accession of income through the operation of the Act of 1864, for the Leasing of the Waste Lands of the Crown. Vast quantities of land are now either lying idle, waste and unoccupied, or are in the hands of persons holding under Annual Leases, and paying almost nothing for tracts of great value. The system of Leasing appears to be particularly adapted to the condition of the Colony. Under its operation the Government, as representing the public, may obtain a fair return from its property; while the Tenants, free from the pressure from the encumbrances to which I have adverted, may apply all their means and all their energies to the improvement of their position. We have therefore been striving to push forward Surveys of extensive tracts in various Divisions of the Colony, and, where practicable, to avail ourselves of them for extending the Trigonometrical Survey already executed in the neighbourhood of the Sea Coast. The Government are most desirous of promoting the work; the people are ready to take up the farms as soon as offered; competent and trustworthy Surveyors are anxious to be employed. I am therefore greatly disappointed at not having it in my power to inform you that our arrangements are complete, and that the Surveys are in full progress. At the same time you may rely on our continued efforts to overcome the impediments. Some additional Revenue may also be expected under the Act of last Session for the Depasturing of Stock on Crown Lands on Licences, if you should be pleased to accede to some alteration of its provisions. It will be within your recollection that, while the Bill was under discussion, a provision was introduced fixing minimum rates at which Licences should be issued. There cannot be any doubt that for several Divisions these rates are far too high; and that they, combined with the opposition of most of the Divisional Councils, operated to prevent the Act from taking practical effect. I shall therefore submit a Bill for reducing these rates in a reasonable proportion.

I shall now briefly bring to your notice a few of the subjects on which the Government hope that during the present Session you will be prepared to legislate.

Some of the Bills are already before the Public,—others would have been in the same state of forwardness, but for the very severe illness of the Attorney-General, which has inevitably retarded their preparation. Several of these measures formed the subjects of discussion during the last Session; and they are brought forward now with such modifications as we hope may render them acceptable to both Houses of Parliament.

The Bill for the establishment of a Government Paper Currency remains unaltered. We adhere to our opinion that its enactment will prove of advantage to the whole Colony; and we have not yet been satisfied of the necessity for modifying its details, although, of course, prepared to accept such reasonable alterations as Parliament may deem expedient.

Two Bills will be introduced relative to the Postal Rates and Postal Administration. Last Session we failed to carry the adoption of new Regulations much needed, and to which there was no opposition, in consequence of the differences of opinion that prevailed in both Houses as to an augumentation of certain Rates of Postage. By separating the two subjects we hope to obtain sanction of the administrative improvements; while we leave the rates of charge to the unfettered decision of Parliament.

The Bill for granting Pensions on special terms to the Frontier Police will, on this occasion, apply to the whole Body, Privates as well as Officers.

We have willingly yielded to what we believed to be your wish on this point. The concession, under the terms of the Bill, will probably involve but a very moderate charge on the Revenues. I have lately had an opportunity of seeing collected together a larger proportion of this Force than was ever before assembled, and I can with the greatest confidence advise you to deal liberally with a Body of Men whose services are of such great value.

The Bill introduced last Session for modifying the terms of Grants of Land held under condition of Personal Occupation, failed to gain approval, because it contained provisions necessary, in our judgment, to ensure the mere existence of an Armed Force, but which were held to be too inquisitorial.

The Government does not desire to insist on them, and therefore proposes the simple and total abolition of the tenure, which is found to be oppressive, and which they do not hold to be really necessary.

A Bill will be introduced to provide for the better preservation of Game in the several Districts of the Colony. A very general feeling prevails as to the inefficiency of the present law, and to the necessity for making an effort, before it is too late, to prevent that total extinction of the Wild Animals of the Country which is so rapidly advancing. The Government has endeavoured to obtain the best information as to the Seasons and local peculiarities in all parts, and hope to be able to submit a Bill calculated to effect the object in view.

We shall again invite you to render permanent the Act for the Maintenance of the Main Roads, and shall propose a modification of the Act for the prevention of the introduction of Diseased Cattle and Sheep. The present law is too stringent, and in its application to Sheep has been found in the present instance to be unnecessary and prejudicial.

In the face of the competition to which the Wool-Growers of the Colony are exposed, the Legislature ought unquestionably to be very cautious in creating impediments to the introduction of the Foreign Blood which is essential to the maintenance of the quality of the Wool. And we shall therefore invite you to follow the example of the Mother Country, and to leave with the Executive the power of prohibiting importation wherever a real necessity may be shown to exist.

A Bill has been published for regulating the Administration of the Estates of deceased Natives, which is mainly based upon an Ordinance which I was enabled to pass in 1864 in British Kaffraria, and which is still in force in the Divisions of King William's Town and East London.

Before its enactment there, I had opportunities of discussing its provisions very freely with Christian Ministers of various denominations; and I cannot now call to mind that any of them objected to its provisions as finally passed. It rests upon the principle that while we may conscientiously object to some of the customs connected with Native Marriages, and may feel bound to aim at their gradual abolition, we are still not entitled to declare that all Marriages which may not be celebrated according to our forms are null and void, and the issue of them illegitimate. We profess our desire for the advancement of the Natives. We devise plans for enabling them to acquire landed property. We cannot in honesty accompany them with a process of confiscation on the plea of illegitimacy. And I trust that, with such improvements as your judgment may suggest, the Bill may become law during the present Session.

The condition of some of the Harbour Works of the Colony has been the subject of anxious consideration on the part of the Government, more particularly those of Port Elizabeth and East London, in the case of which, and especially of the former, there is much ground to fear that the past operations have been of little benefit.

We have been in communication with the Crown Agents, with the view of obtaining professional advice of the highest standard for future guidance, and we learn that no Engineer of the first rank would undertake to give the necessary opinion and plans, except after a full inspection of the localities by a competent person to be selected by himself. The cost of such an inspection of the Works requiring it, cannot be estimated at a less sum than from £2,000 to £3,000, and the Government has not felt justified in incurring this liability without your approval. You will probably see the expediency of coming to a decision on this point at an early date.

Your attention must again be given to the position of the Works at the Kowie Harbour. If it be conceded that further assistance must be given by the Colony, either for the completion of the Works, or the liquidation of existing liabilities, I think there can be little doubt of the expediency of extinguishing the private proprietary rights, and placing the whole under a system of public control. But there is reason to fear that the operation will be very costly. The proposal of the Board of Directors, which shall be laid before you, is that on condition of their concession of all their rights and claims, the Colony shall pay existing liabilities to the amount of upwards of £24,000; and shall give the shareholders the original amount paid by them, viz., £25,000. A further outlay of about £3,000 will be needed for plant and materials.

I regret that the Colony has lately been deprived of the means of regular communication with India, and the East in general, in consequence of the Governments of Natal and Mauritius having found themselves compelled to withdraw from the contracts for their shares of the subsidies. The Union Company have since entered into negotiations with Her Majesty's Government for the establishment of bi-monthly steamers on the Western route, on condition, among other things, that the payment of £3,000 per annum hitherto made by the Colony for the Eastern line shall be made available for the proposed addition. In the existing state of things, I think you ought to pause before resolving to continue this charge; but an early decision will be acceptable.

Since the last Session an offer has been received from the Manager of the Telegraph Company for the sale to the Government of the entire Establishment for the sum of £45,000, to be paid in cash or in Debentures. The tender has been accompanied with an offer of all possible information and permission to inspect all the Books and Accounts of the Company. I shall lose no time in laying before you the result of our inquiries, which lead us to believe that the acceptance of the Company's offer, when contrasted with the subsidies we now have to pay, will prove very advantageous. With proper management and combination with the Post Office Department the working of the Telegraph ought to be conducted on a very economical footing; and I have given directions for the preparation of plans and estimates for the construction of a new building for the use of the Postal and Telegraphic Establishments in Cape Town, and for the conversion of the present Post Office into offices for other departments, which are much needed.

Recent occurrences have again called forth a demand for the erection of Bridges over some of the Rivers on the main line of communication between Graham's Town and King William's Town, and in other places; and it will be for you to decide whether, and to what extent in the present state of the finances, they can be undertaken. Their desirability has never been questioned; but the means have not been forthcoming. Suggestions have been made that the construction of them should be entrusted to individuals or companies, who should be remunerated by concessions of land. But the Government do not perceive what benefit would accrue from conceding the tracts, which they could themselves dispose of, if it were decided that the value of them should be applied to this service.

I ought, however, to observe that the Commander of the Forces has from time to time made urgent representations of the need, in a military point of view, for greater security of communication, and has offered to render assistance in the prosecution of the works.

The Government has at all times appreciated the spirit that has prompted these offers, but could not conceal from itself that the real want was money, and not men, for such undertakings.

For the present, therefore, we shall only ask your sanction for the construction of a bridge over the Keiskamma, on the new line from Breakfast Vley, and of two others over the Klaas Smit and Zwart Kei Rivers, on the northern line from the Katberg.

I am gratified at being enabled to inform you that the representations submitted to Her Majesty's Government at the close of last Session have had the effect of inducing them to withdraw, for the present, the demand made for large additional contributions towards the cost of the Colonial Garrison. While they must maintain the soundness of the principle on which the request was based, and which in so many cases has already been acted upon, they appreciate the anxious desire shown by this Legislature to retrieve its finances, and hope that continued efforts in this direction will enable this Colony, in the same way as others, to contribute a fair proportion of the expenses of the troops.

Public attention has been much attracted of late to transactions which have taken place between the President of the Orange Free State, the Basuto Chief Moshesh, and myself, and which have arisen out of my receipt from Her Majesty's Government of a communication to the effect that, instead of adopting my suggestion of the appointment of a British Agent to reside with Moshesh, they had come to the conclusion that the peace and welfare of Her Majesty's Possessions in South Africa would be best promoted by accepting the overtures made by him towards being received under the authority of the Queen, and that they left to my discretion the time and manner of accomplishing the measure, and the terms on which I should communicate on the subject with the Free State, which they supposed would be glad to see a new order of things calculated to give them freedom from the depredations of the Basutos. I shall take the earliest opportunity of laying before you the instructions on which I have acted, and the subsequent correspondence.

On the present occasion I wish first to explain the considerations which led me to make what I admit to have been a very unreserved use of the power conferred by law upon the Governor, of employing the Frontier Police either within or beyond the limits of the Colony. Objections have been taken to this act in some quarters, on the ground that, as the territory was intended to be annexed to Natal, the Police of the Cape were not justly available for carrying the measure into effect. The answer is, that the conversion of the Basutos into British Subjects was the main object of the arrangement, and provided that could be attained, whether by union with Natal or otherwise, the commerce and the interests of this Colony must be immediately and beneficially affected.

It has also been objected that this is an Imperial, and not a Colonial question. My own opinion is, that, like many others, it is an Imperial mainly, almost exclusively, because it is a Colonial one. Beyond the desire to advance the cause of Civilization and Christianity, to which I do not believe the people of this Colony to be indifferent, it would be difficult to discover any direct Imperial interest in the reception of the Basutos as British Subjects. With the Colony the case is very different. I cannot adduce better proof of the vital importance to its people of the restoration and maintenance of peace on the Border, than a reference to a representation I have received from the Chamber of Commerce at Port Elizabeth, setting forth that the claims of the Merchants of that Town alone on the Free State exceed £300,000,—claims which form only a portion of the Colonial interests that have been so deeply and so injuriously affected by this Border War. Having long looked forward to an opportunity for intervening in the general interests, I had not the slightest hesitation as to the propriety of availing myself of all the means within my reach—the presence of the Police on the scene of events would be the best proof of the reality of our intentions. Respect for the Free State suggested that they should be there in force. Every available member of the Force was directed towards Basutoland. The state of the Colony was such as to admit of this move being effected without risk. The population around the ordinary Stations of the Police were quiet and contented; food was abundant; stealing had been reduced to the lowest ebb. Not a single representation has been received of the occurrence of any mischief attributable to their temporary absence. The main body of them, under the orders of Sir Walter Currie, are already on this side of the Orange River, on their return to their proper Stations.

It is difficult at the present moment to give a correct description of the state of affairs. It is still more difficult to convey to those who live at a distance from the scene of action the extraordinary state of confusion in which everything is involved; but on which I still hope, by the exercise of patience and good feeling, to lay the foundations of a lasting peace. I very much regret that the Government of the Free State should have thought it right to refuse peremptorily to negotiate with me, and should, as I believe to be the case, have forwarded to England a protest against my execution of the directions of Her Majesty's Government, of the contents of which I am wholly ignorant.

The evils of the delay which must inevitably result from these steps will fall heavily on the people of the State; especially on those who are looking to the occupation of farms within the former Border of Basutoland, and who are anxious to avail themselves of the Season, now close at hand, for commencing agricultural operations. Already the pressure is making itself felt. Even since my return to Cape Town I have received two letters from the President, and a Resolution from the Volksraad, submitting proposals for negotiation. In their present shape they are not such as I can, consistently with my duty, accept; and the difficulty of arriving at an agreement on modifications of them is immeasurably increased by their having been kept back until I had left the country. But I need hardly assure you that I shall still be most willing to proceed with the necessary negotiation.

In other respects I have every reason to be content with the results of my recent journey. I have been enabled to satisfy myself of the real state of the country and the people. I have received from Moshesh and his tribe the most absolute surrender into my hands of their rights and interests, and their assent to that sacrifice of territory for the use of Europeans which is essential to a final settlement. I have announced and obtained their acquiescence in intended changes, which will strike at the root of customs that we regard as most opposed to the principles of Christianity and Civilization. I have satisfied myself that there will be ample means for the support of such a system of Government as will, for some years at any rate, be best suited to the condition of the people. Active hostilities have been brought to a close. The Wagons of Traders passing in safety through the country already afford indications of the revival of the ordinary intercourse and traffic.

The proper conduct of these affairs may in the future, perhaps, have a more important bearing on the interests of these countries than anything that is now passing around us; and I shall be most glad to be instrumental in giving full effect to the benevolent intentions of the Government of Her Majesty.

HIS Excellency the Governor has been pleased to direct the publication for general information of the following communication addressed to Commodore RANDOLPH, upon the subject of a Shoal off Cape Point.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY,
Colonial Secretary.

Her Majesty's Naval Yard, Simon's Bay, 8th May, 1868.

Commodore GEORGE G. RANDOLPH, &c., &c.

SIR,—I beg to forward a plan of the Shoal N.W. of Cape Point, with the soundings taken in the African on the 1st and 2nd instant.

It appears to be a rocky ledge, about a mile in length and three quarters of a mile in breadth, trending nearly north and south in line with the Coast, the least water near the centre 10½ fathoms, gradually shelving off to 14, 16, and 20 fathoms to the westward. In-shore we obtained 12, 14, 16 and 18 fathoms. It lies 1½ to 2 miles off shore, with Cape Point Lighthouse S.E. ¼ S. 6½ miles, Polesberg E. by S., and Slankop Point N. by E. ¼ E. 10 miles.

The Bank is in the fair way for Vessels passing round the Coast to and from Table Bay; and, as the Cape Point Lightkeeper informs me that it breaks heavily in gales of wind, no Vessel should approach this part of the Coast within 5 or 6 miles in bad weather.

In very heavy southerly gales a continuous line of breakers has been observed from the ledge to the shore.

I have, &c.,

RICHARD C. DYER,
Staff Commander.

HEIDELBERG & PORT BEAUFORT.

TENDERS FOR MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
23rd May, 1868.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General and marked "Tender for Iuland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Tuesday, the 16th June, 1868, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:—

Between Heidelberg and Port Beaufort, once a week each way by Cart or on Horseback. Conveyance time to be stated by Tenderer.

The Contract is to commence on Wednesday, the 1st July, 1868, and to terminate on the 31st of December, 1870; but either party to be at liberty to end the same on giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations already established or to be established on the above route.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state by what particular route they will engage to carry the Mails, the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded: provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:—

For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	6
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – –	0	15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – –	1	5	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets into any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance, unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any Person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorized by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission, constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

TO

Regulate the issue of Superannuation Allowances to the Officers of the Armed and Mounted Frontier Police, and to make provision for other Members thereof becoming unfit for Service.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS by the regulations of Her Majesty's service, it is provided that no public officer shall be entitled to retire on a superannuation allowance, unless incapacitated by bodily infirmity, until he shall have attained the age of sixty, and it is further provided that such superannuation allowance shall be calculated at the rate of one sixtieth of the salary paid to the officer at the time of his retirement, for each year that he shall have been in the service of Her Majesty: And whereas, from the nature of the duties which the officers of the Armed and Mounted Frontier Police are called upon to discharge, it is reasonable that they should be permitted to retire at their own option before attaining the age of sixty, and likewise that their superannuation allowances should be calculated at a scale more favourable to such officers: And whereas it is desirable to make provision for the cases of other members of the said Police who may become unfit for further service: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. Every officer of the Armed and Mounted Frontier Police above the rank of sergeant shall be entitled to retire on a superannuation allowance, to be calculated in proportion to his rate of salary and length of service, on attaining the age of fifty years.

II. In calculating the amount of superannuation allowance to which any such officer shall be entitled on retirement, whether from bodily infirmity or otherwise, there shall be granted to him a sum equal to one fiftieth of his salary then payable to him for each year that he shall have served in the said Police.

III. If any member of the said Police shall be promoted to be an officer thereof above the rank of sergeant the time which he may have served therein before such promotion shall be included in the computation of the term for which the superannuation allowance shall be granted.

IV. Subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained, the superannuation allowances to be granted to the officers of the said Police above the rank of sergeant shall be issued in conformity with the general regulations of Her Majesty's Service in that behalf established.

V. It shall be lawful for the Governor, in the case of any sergeant of the said force who shall have served not less than twenty-one years therein, either as sergeant or in any other grade, the whole period of his service, in whatever grade, being counted, and who shall have attained the age of fifty years, or who shall, by bodily infirmity or otherwise, become incapacitated for further service, and shall in either case have conducted himself during his service uniformly to the satisfaction of his superiors in office, to grant to such sergeant a retiring pension not exceeding the sum of one shilling and sixpence per diem during his life.

VI. It shall be lawful for the Governor, in the case of any other member of the said force, not being an officer of the same over the rank of sergeant, falling within the provisions of the last foregoing section, who shall have served not less than fifteen years therein, and who shall have attained the age of forty-five years, or who shall, by bodily infirmity or otherwise, become incapacitated for further service, and shall in either case have conducted himself during his service uniformly to the satisfaction of his superiors in office, to grant to such member a pension not exceeding in any case the sum of one shilling per diem during his life.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the eleventh section of the Stamp Act, 1864, no postage stamp which shall after the promulgation of this Act be affixed to any instrument or document required by the said Stamp Act, 1864, or any other Act, to be stamped, shall be deemed available by way of a stamp on such instrument or document, save only for purposes of postage; but every instrument or document, so far as the same shall be stamped with postage stamps, shall, save for the purposes of postage, be deemed to be unstamped or insufficiently stamped, as the case may be, in like manner as if no such postage stamps had been affixed thereto, and shall be liable to all the disabilities and penalties which would attend such instrument or document if so unstamped or insufficiently stamped as aforesaid; and every person who shall affix by way of stamp, for any purpose other than for postage purposes, a postage stamp to any instrument or document required by the said Act, or any other Act, to be stamped, and every person who shall receive such instrument stamped with any postage stamp, shall be liable to the same penalties and disabilities as if such postage stamp were not affixed and no stamp were affixed in stead thereof.

FOR

The Establishment of a Government Paper Currency.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS it is desirable to establish a Government Paper Currency in this Colony, convertible for specie on demand: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation, to appoint five fit and proper persons to be and to be styled Currency Commissioners of the Cape of Good Hope.

II. Of the said five commissioners to be so appointed, two shall at all times be persons holding office of profit under Her Majesty the Queen in her local Executive Government of this Colony, and three shall at all times be persons none of whom shall hold any such office.

III. If any commissioner, for the time being, shall die or resign, or quit the Colony for any period exceeding three months, or having been the holder of an office of profit as aforesaid shall cease to be the holder of such office, or if any commissioner shall be removed by the Governor by proclamation, then the office of such commissioner shall cease and determine, and another commissioner shall, in manner aforesaid, be appointed in his room and stead.

VI. It shall be lawful for the treasurer, with the approval of the Governor, to pay over from time to time to the Currency Commissioners for the purposes of this Act, so much of any gold or silver coin legally current in this Colony as may be held by the Government, and may not be required for the lawful purposes of the said Government; and all such gold and silver coin so paid over shall be deposited by the said Currency Commissioners in a vault, of which three separate keys shall be kept by such three of their number as shall be by them from time to time selected for that purpose, one of whom shall always be one of those holding office of profit.

VII. When and so soon as any gold or silver coin shall have been paid over and deposited as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Currency Commissioners, on the requisition of the Governor, to issue to the Treasurer-General, for the purposes of the Government, and for the issue and currency of the Colony, notes of the Government of the Cape of Good Hope, to be made payable to the bearer on demand, in the manner and in the proportions hereinafter stated,—that is to say, so long as the sum of gold and silver coin so deposited as aforesaid in the said vault shall not exceed the sum of twenty thousand pounds, then a sum in the said notes, reckoning the same at par, equal to the sum for the time being deposited as aforesaid. So long as the amount of the said notes so for the time being issued as aforesaid to the Treasurer-General and outstanding shall exceed the said sum of twenty thousand pounds, and shall not exceed the sum of one hundred thousand pounds, it shall be lawful to keep issued and outstanding the said sum of twenty thousand pounds in such notes as aforesaid, and in addition thereto for every three pounds in coin which shall be for the time being so deposited as aforesaid in excess of the said sum of twenty thousand pounds, a sum of five pounds in such notes as aforesaid; so that, so long as the sum of such notes issued and outstanding shall amount to one hundred thousand pounds, the sum of gold and silver coin in deposit shall not be less than sixty-eight thousand pounds. So long as the sum so issued as aforesaid and outstanding shall exceed the sum of one hundred thousand pounds, and shall not exceed the sum of three hundred thousand pounds, it shall be lawful to keep issued and outstanding the sum of one hundred thousand pounds in such notes as aforesaid, and in addition thereto for every one pound in coin which shall be for the time being so deposited as aforesaid in excess of the above-mentioned sum of sixty-eight thousand pounds, a sum of two pounds in such notes as aforesaid.

VIII. It shall not be lawful to issue or to keep issued in such notes as aforesaid any sum in excess of the said amount of three hundred thousand pounds, for the time being, without the authority of Parliament.

IX. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to compel the Governor to demand from the Currency Commissioners, or to compel the Treasurer-General to issue for general circulation, the full amount which, under the preceding sections hereof, they would be empowered for the time being to call for or issue respectively.

X. The said notes shall be for sums of one pound, five pounds, and ten pounds, and any integral multiples of ten pounds which to the Governor shall seem fit, and shall be payable to the holder thereof, at the office of the Treasury in Cape Town, at all legal business hours, upon the demand of the holder thereof, at par, in the lawful current coin of this Colony, and shall be transferable by delivery merely, and the Government shall be discharged from all liability on any such note by payment thereof to the person presenting the same for payment, without investigating the title of such person to present or to hold the same, and notwithstanding the same may have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained by such person.

XI. The said notes shall be legal tender for the amount of the same respectively throughout the Colony and Dependencies of the Cape of Good Hope, at all places and between all persons, save only at the office of the Treasury in Cape Town.

XII. There shall not be delivered out of the said vault by the Currency Commissioners, or by any other person, any sum of gold or silver coin once deposited as aforesaid, save only to the Treasurer-General, upon the warrant of the Governor, and in exchange for a sum in the said notes equal to the sum so to be delivered out. And any person contravening this enactment shall be liable to fine and imprisonment, with or without hard labour, to any such amount and for any such period respectively, or to such one or other of such penalties as the court before which he shall be tried for such offence shall see fit to order.

XIII. All notes so returned to the said Commissioners, in exchange for coin, shall be immediately cancelled.

XIV. If at any time, owing to the withdrawal of coin from the said vault to answer the demand therefor in exchange for the said notes, under the provisions in that behalf hereinbefore contained, the proportion between the amount of such notes for the time being issued and outstanding, and the amount of coin so for the time being deposited as aforesaid, shall be varied from the proportion hereinbefore sanctioned in that behalf, then and in every such case no further issue of such notes shall be made unless and until, either by repayment of the amount of such gold or silver coin in current coin of this Colony, or by the cancellation of notes paid in to the Treasury, or partly by one and partly by the other of such means, the proportion hereinbefore sanctioned shall have been restored; and such repayment and cancellation shall be made as soon as the same can be made.

XV. There shall be published in the Government Gazette the amount of the issue of such notes outstanding at the closing of the office of the Currency Commissioners on the day next but one before the day of the publication of such Gazette, together with the amount of gold and silver coin respectively for the time being deposited in the said vault, certified by the Commissioners holding the custody of the said keys respectively, under their hands respectively. And together with every such notice and account for the week next before the publication of the next Gazette, there shall be published a copy of the like notice for the last foregoing week.

BILL

TO

Repeal Act No. 5 of 1867, and to make provision relating to Contagious and Infectious Diseases affecting Cattle, Sheep, or other Domestic Animals.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS it is expedient that an Act numbered 5 of 1867 should be repealed, and that provision should be made in future for preventing the introduction into this Colony of contagious and infectious diseases affecting cattle, sheep, or other domestic animals: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The said Act, No. 5 of 1867, shall be, and the same is hereby repealed.

II. If at any time it shall seem expedient, by reason of the known or supposed prevalence in any place beyond this Colony of any contagious or infectious disease, or any disease supposed to be contagious or infectious, affecting cattle, sheep, horses, or any other domestic animals, to prohibit the importation into this Colony for any time, from any place or places, of any such cattle, sheep, horses, or other domestic animals, it shall be lawful for the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, to make proclamation, which shall be published in the Government Gazette, declaring that during such time as shall be named in such proclamation it shall not be lawful to land at any port or place in this Colony, from any ship, vessel, or boat, any such cattle, or any sheep, or horse, or other domestic animal, or any animal of all or any of such denominations, and that the master of any ship or vessel, and the owner of any boats, who shall land or permit or suffer to be landed from such ship or vessel, or boat, contrary to the prohibition in such proclamation contained, any such cattle, sheep, horse, or other domestic animal, shall, for every animal so landed contrary to such prohibition, forfeit, upon conviction, any sum not exceeding four hundred pounds sterling.

III. From and after the publication of such proclamation the prohibitions and penalties contained in the same shall be as binding and validly imposed as if the same were imposed and enacted directly by this Act.

IV. Notwithstanding the general restrictions hereinbefore enacted, it shall be lawful for the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, if it shall seem expedient, by any such proclamation as aforesaid, to permit the landing of such cattle, sheep, horses, or other animals as aforesaid upon Robben Island, or any other island to be named in such proclamation, and to give order for the keeping of such animals separate and apart from any other animals; and if any such animals shall have been so kept on any such island as aforesaid, separate and apart from any others afterwards imported, for a period not less than three months, and shall during such time have shown no symptom of any contagious or infectious disease, or disease supposed to be contagious or infectious, then it shall be lawful for the Governor to give under his hand permission that such specified animals as to him shall seem expedient may, under such restrictions, if any, as to him shall seem expedient, which shall also be under the hand of the Governor, be, and the same may thereupon, subject to such restrictions, if any, be landed from such island on the mainland of this Colony, without incurring any penalty under this Act or any proclamation to be published in pursuance thereof; but if any of the restrictions deemed necessary by the Governor to be coupled with such permission shall be evaded, broken, or neglected, every person knowingly evading, breaking, or neglecting the same shall, on conviction, forfeit any sum not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling.

V. No person who shall have been committed for trial for any offence hereinbefore mentioned shall, pending such trial, be released from custody unless he shall give good and sufficient bail that he will duly appear to take his trial for such offence in any competent court, and that he will pay and satisfy any fine which may by such court be imposed upon him for such offence.

VI. It shall be the duty of the port captain, harbour master, or other officer of Government who shall first board any ship or vessel arriving at any of the ports of this Colony pending the time limited in any such proclamation as aforesaid for the continuance of such prohibitions as aforesaid as may be therein contained, to ask the master of such ship or vessel whether he has on board any animal whereof the importation shall by such proclamation be prohibited, mentioning such animals by their denominations; and should the said master reply in the affirmative, the port captain, habour master, or other officer shall inform the said master of this Act and the said proclamation, and deliver to him a copy of the same respectively.

VII. If during the time within which any such prohibition as aforesaid shall be in force there shall arrive in any of the ports of this Colony any of the animals whereof the importation shall be so prohibited as aforesaid, which shall be consigned to any place in this Colony, and which shall have been shipped for this Colony before the publication of any such proclamation as aforesaid in the London Gazette, it shall in such case be lawful for the Governor, and he is hereby authorized, to indemnify, from and out of the public revenue, the owner of every such animal by paying to him or his agent the first cost of every such animal, together with freight, insurance, and any other charge which shall have been reasonably and properly incurred upon or about such animal, whereupon such animal shall become the property of the Queen in her colonial revenue; but it shall not be incumbent on any importer of such animal to accept such terms if he shall be willing to submit to such terms as may be proposed to him by the Colonial Government with reference to landing such animal on Robben Island, or such other island as the Governor shall appoint, and to providing for the care and maintenance of such animal separate and apart from other animals, save such as shall have been imported therewith, at the risk of the owner, for such time as may seem expedient, not being less than three months, and shall abide by such terms and submit to such restrictions as to subsequently landing such animal upon the mainland of this Colony, and keeping the same for such time thereafter as may seem expedient, and shall be ordered by the Governor as aforesaid in that behalf: Provided, also, that no compensation shall be made in respect of any such animal as aforesaid which shall have been shipped at any time after the publication of such proclamation as aforesaid in the London Gazette, or in respect of any such animal as shall be found to be actually suffering from any contagious or infectious disease, or any disease supposed to be contagious or infectious, at the time at which such animal would, in the ordinary course, have been landed on the mainland of this Colony, or within fourteen days thereafter.

VIII. In the interpretation of this Act, the term "master" shall include any officer in command of any ship or vessel.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS in times past grants of land in certain of the Eastern divisions of the Colony have been made by the Crown to private persons, on special conditions that they shall personally reside on such land, and be further liable to provide for the defence thereof, in manner set forth in the titles issued for the same: And whereas it does not appear to be necessary any longer to keep in force such special conditions, which have been found in certain respects irksome and vexatious: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY,
Colonial Secretary.

Her Majesty's Naval Yard, Simon's Bay, 8th May, 1868.

Commodore GEORGE G. RANDOLPH, &c., &c.

SIR,—I beg to forward a plan of the Shoal N.W. of Cape Point, with the soundings taken in the African on the 1st and 2nd instant.

It appears to be a rocky ledge, about a mile in length and three quarters of a mile in breadth, trending nearly north and south in line with the Coast, the least water near the centre 10½ fathoms, gradually shelving off to 14, 16, and 20 fathoms to the westward. In-shore we obtained 12, 14, 16, and 18 fathoms. It lies 1½ to 2 miles off shore, with Cape Point Lighthouse S.E. ½ S. 6½ miles, Pelesberg E. by S., and Slankop Point N. by E. ¼ E. 10 miles.

The Bank is in the fair way for Vessels passing round the Coast to and from Table Bay; and, as the Cape Point Lightkeeper informs me that it breaks heavily in gales of wind, no Vessel should approach this part of the Coast within 5 or 6 miles in bad weather.

In very heavy southerly gales a continuous line of breakers has been observed from the ledge to the shore.

I have, &c.,

Staff Commander.

GOVERNMENT NOTICE.—No. 159, 1868.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 27th May, 1868.

IN terms of the 27th Section of the Act No. 5 of 1856, His Excellency the Governor directs the publication for general information of the following Report of the Board of Managers of the Provincial Hospital, Port Elizabeth, for the year 1867.

By command of His Excellency the Governor,

R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary.

Port Elizabeth, 18th March, 1868.

The Hon. R. SOUTHEY, Colonial Secretary, Cape Town.

SIR,—Herewith I have the honour of handing you the annual reports and accounts of the Provincial Hospital at Port Elizabeth, for the year ending the 31st December, 1867.

I have, &c.,

H. M. SCRIVENOR, Secretary.

Report of the Board of Managers of the Provincial Hospital, Port Elizabeth, for the year ending 31st December, 1867.

The Board of Managers of the Provincial Hospital of Port Elizabeth beg to direct the special attention of His Excellency the Governor to the annual report of the medical officers of the institution.

Should the opinion expressed by them, that the remittent form of malarious fever which has been prevalent in this province, and which in a more virulent form has been so fatal in Cape Town and elsewhere, be not contagious, it will be for His Excellency to determine whether the very onerous restrictions imposed by the quarantine regulations may not cease to be imposed, or be greatly mitigated.

The Board of Managers beg to direct the special attention of His Excellency to that part of the report which reiterates the urgent need of additional accommodation for the isolation of offensive and contagious diseases, and for the temporary safe custody of lunatics and noisily delirious patients.

The Board, at the instance of the medical officers, have frequently urged this matter upon the attention of His Excellency, and trust that its extreme urgency will induce the Legislature to afford a separate grant, of the estimated cost of £500 sterling. It will be observed that the building account already exhibits a debit balance of £452 5s. 9d. sterling.

His Excellency will perceive that the claims upon the institution continue rapidly to increase, the number of in-door patients for the past year being 670, compared with 594 in the previous year, being 72 in excess; whilst the number of out-door patients was 1,300, compared with 1,110 of the previous year, being an increase of 190.

The general statement of receipts and expenditure is hereto annexed. It will be observed that the credit balance at the disposal of the Board is apparently large; this arises from the receipt of the last two annual grants during the year 1867. The balance will, however, be entirely absorbed before the expiration of the quarter ending June next.

The support afforded to the Hospital by local contributions, the Board of Managers regret to say, has not been so liberal as they have a right to expect; but this is unfortunately attributable to the great depression of trade in this province,

In order to maintain the efficiency of this important institution, His Excellency will perceive the necessity of placing upon the Estimates a sum equal to that of last year's, which they make no doubt the Legislature will cordially sanction.

The economical working of the institution will, it is believed, favourably contrast with any similar institution, and the Board of Managers are well satisfied that the duties of the officers of the institution have been efficiently performed.

It is but justice to record that to the laborious attention and professional skill of the medical officers the institution mainly owes its universal popularity.

By order of the Board,

H. M. SCRIVENOR, Secretary.

Report of the Medical Officers of the Provincial Hospital, Port Elizabeth, for the year ending the 31st December, 1867.

We have again to report the steady progress of the institution in usefulness and efficiency.

The list appended will show that the number of in-door patients admitted during the year was 670, many of these from distant districts, some of the performance of serious surgical operations.

Large as has been the increase in number of in-patients, viz., 670 as compared with 594 of last year, that of the out-door patients was still larger, viz., 1,300 to 1,110 in 1866. This increase was owing in great measure to the prevalence of a remittent form of malarious fever, which has shown itself in many districts of this Colony, as well as in the East. Cases from Mauritius, Java, and the Persian Gulf have been admitted from time to time. So many of these fever cases were at one period in the Hospital, that temporary accommodation had to be sought in the wards applied to special purposes, and a requisition for the supply of a tent was sent in, and which was provided, but fortunately the resources of the institution proved sufficient to meet the emergency. It will be observed that the mortality from this fever was small, the mildness of the climate, the free exposure of the town to winds, &c., &c., having prevented it assuming the violent types it has done in Cape Town and Port Louis.

We trust it may not be deemed irrelevant in a report of this nature to animadvert on the restrictions to which the commerce and postal arrangements of this and other parts of the Colony have been subjected by quarantine regulations. These were wholly unnecessary, inasmuch as, first, the fever was not of a contagious nature; secondly, it had already been introduced from Mauritius and other Eastern ports, in past seasons as well as the present year; thirdly, a fever of the same character, but milder type, was already prevalent both here and in the country districts. No precautions for the prevention of contagion were taken in the Hospital, nor were any necessary.

We have again to bring forward the urgent need of apartments for the isolation of offensive and contagious diseases, as also of strong wards for the temporary safe custody of lunatics or noisily delirious patients; great inconvenience and disturbance to the inmates of the Hospital having occurred from patients of this class.

The general management of the institution under the Superintendent is such as to meet our continued approbation.

Harer Majesteits Marinewerf,
Simonsbaai, 8 Mei, 1868.

Kommodore GEORGE G. RANDOLPH, enz., enz.

MIJNHEER,—Ik heb de eer u te doen toekennen een plan van de ondiepte, ten noordwesten van Kaappunt, met de peilingen gedaan in de African op den 1sten en 2den dezer.

Het schijnt eene rotsachtige verhevenheid te zijn van omtrent eene mijl in lengte en ¾ mijl in breedte, zich nagenoeg noord- en zuidwaarts uitstrekkende in één lijn met de kust; het laagste water nabij het midden is 10½ vademen en neemt in diepte toe tot 14, 16 en 28 vademen naar het westen. Aan de kustzijde peilden wij 12, 14, 16 en 18 vademen. De bank ligt 1½ tot 2 mijlen van de kust met den vuurtoorn van Kaappunt Z. O. ½ Z. 6½ mijl, Polesberg O. ten Z., en Slangkoppunt N. t. O. ½ O. 10 mijlen.

De bank ligt in den weg van schepen die de kust omgaan naar en van Tafelbaai; en daar de torenwachter aan Kaappunt mij berigt, dat er bij stormweer zware branding staat, moeten de schepen bij zwaar weder niet binnen 5 of 6 mijlen dat gedeelte der kust naderen.

In zeer zware zuidelijke stormen heeft men eene onafgebrokene lijn van branding waargenomen van de bank naar de kust.

HEIDELBERG & PORT BEAUFORT.

TENDERS FOR MAILS.

General Post Office, Cape Town,
23rd May, 1868.

NOTICE is hereby given that Sealed Tenders addressed to the Honourable the Auditor-General, and marked "Tender for Inland Mails," will be received by that Officer until Tuesday, the 16th June, 1868, at 12 noon, for the conveyance of the following Mails:—

Between Heidelberg and Port Beaufort, once a week each way, by Cart or on Horseback. Conveyance time to be stated by Tenderer.

The Contract is to commence on Wednesday, the 1st July, 1868, and to terminate on the 31st of December, 1870; but either party to be at liberty to end the same upon giving four months' notice, in writing, to that effect.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

No Tender will be attended to unless prepared in proper form, in conformity with this Notice, and of which copies may be obtained either at this Office, or that of the respective Civil Commissioners and Postmasters.

The Tenders must include all intermediate Post Offices between Stations already established or to be established on the above route.

It is desired that the Tenderers should state by what particular route they will engage to carry the Mails, the number of relays of Horses to be used, and the Stations at which they will be kept; as, also, at what price they will engage to convey extra Posts or Expresses on Horseback on the Post Line for which they tender.

Payment will be made to the Contractor monthly, either at the Colonial Treasury in Cape Town, or by the Civil Commissioner of any Division he may select; provided the Contract Bond shall previously have been transmitted to this Office, duly completed, which Bond the Contractor will be required to execute in the presence of two competent Witnesses, together with two good and approved Sureties, to be provided by him, for the due fulfilment of the Contract; and he must accompany his Tender with a written engagement from his Sureties to bind themselves as such; as, also, with a Certificate from the Civil Commissioner or Resident Magistrate of the District in which he resides, as to the sufficiency of such Sureties. In the Tender, the names of the Contractor and his Sureties should be stated at full length, and their respective occupations should also be mentioned therein. The Security required will, in each case, be equal to the payment to be made by Government to the Contractor for one year of the Contract.

The Contractor will be required to provide his own means of conveyance for crossing rivers, without detention; and all penalties for delay, from whatever cause arising, will be rigidly exacted. Any party tendering is required to specify in his Tender the means to be adopted by him for crossing or avoiding swollen rivers, either by applying some contrivance, or leaving the usual line, and also the delay, if any, to be allowed on such occasions.

The Tenderers are required to convey the Mails in covered Carts on springs, conveyed by not fewer than two horses each.

The Contractor's Carts are to be light, but strong, sufficiently large to contain the Mail Bags, and to be furnished with Waterproof Wells, or Boxes, with strong Locks and Keys, to hold the Mail Packets, for enclosing and securing which it will be necessary for the Contractor to supply Waterproof Bags; or, failing these, the Cart is to be supplied with Tarpaulins, to be strapped over it and over any Mail Packets that may have to be secured to it, and which are to be lashed on with good stout riems. The Carts to be provided with two good Lamps, with strong Reflectors, which are to be kept lighted at night when travelling.

The Contractor is bound, at his own expense, to provide the means of protecting the Mail Packets from the weather, or injury in transferring them from one Post Cart to another, on the line of road herein referred to, and will be held responsible for any damage which may occur to them whilst being transferred from his charge.

The Contractor will be at liberty to carry such number of Passengers or Parcels in the Mail Vehicle as he may think fit, and to make his own charge for the accommodation thus afforded: provided that part of the Box or Well of the Cart specially to be appropriated for the Mail shall not be mixed up with any other Packets, &c., not appertaining to such Mail.

But the Contractor will not be allowed to carry, by himself or any of his Servants, any Letters or Newspapers, excepting those delivered to him by the respective Postmasters, or for delivery at any Post Office, nor are they knowingly to permit any Passenger to carry any Letter or Newspaper.

The Post Rider shall be provided by the Contractor with a Bugle or Horn, to be sounded when approaching any Post Office or Post Station.

For any detention of the Mail, or any part thereof, beyond the time specified for the distance allowed, the Contractor shall forfeit according to the following scale:—

	£	s.	d.
For every period not exceeding half an hour –	0	2	0
„ half an hour, and not exceeding one hour –	0	7	6
„ one hour, and not exceeding an hour and a half – – – – – – – – –		15	0
„ one hour and a half, and not exceeding two hours – – – – – – – –	1	3	0
„ two hours, and not exceeding two hours and a half – – – – – – – –	2	0	0

and for every additional half-hour beyond two hours and a half, the additional sum of Ten Shillings.

In the event of the Contractor failing or neglecting for three Posts in succession to convey the Mails within the time herein stipulated, the Postmaster-General for the time being, in that case to have it in his power, should he so think fit, to advertise for Tenders for a new Contract without any reference to the clause for giving four months' notice for an earlier termination thereof (which clause is to be null and void); and any loss that may accrue by reason that the terms of the new Contract are higher than the terms of the old is to be borne by the Contractor.

And inasmuch as serious irregularities have arisen from changing Vehicles and shifting the Mails, the Contractor will have to bind himself that as often as any Post Boy of his shall receive any Mail Bags or Post Office Packets into any Vehicle at any Post Office, such Bags and Packets shall be carried to their destination in that same Vehicle, and that none of the said Bags or Parcels shall, between the Post Office where the same were received and the Post Office where the same should be delivered, be shifted or removed from that Vehicle to any other Vehicle or mode of conveyance, unless with the permission and in the presence of some Postmaster, or unless the Vehicle carrying the same shall, by accident or other cause arising after the same shall have been received, be rendered incapable of carrying on the Mail to its destination. And for any and every breach of this stipulation the Contractor will have to pay to the Postmaster-General for the time being whatever penalty he shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds sterling.

In case any Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail shall not be regularly delivered at the same time as the rest thereof, the Contractor shall be bound to pay to the Postmaster-General, for or in respect of every such lost or missing Bag, Packet, or other part of any Mail, such sum as the said Postmaster shall see fit to demand, not exceeding Twenty-five Pounds Sterling, unless the Contractor shall prove that such Bag, Packet, or other part of any such Mail was lost or delayed by inevitable accident against which it was impossible to guard. And the Contractor shall likewise be liable to the Postmaster-General, claiming on behalf of whom it may concern, to make good all loss or damage sustained by any Person whomsoever, by reason that any Mail or Bag, Parcel, or other part of any Mail, shall have been lost or delayed for want of due and proper care and diligence of the Contractor, or any Person in his service.

Should the said Contractor fail in the performance of his agreement at any period during the existence of the same, then, and in that case, it shall be lawful for the Postmaster-General for the time being, and for all Persons thereto authorised by him, to hire, or cause to be hired such Person or Persons, Horse or Horses, as shall be required for the due performance thereof; and all and every expense attendant upon the same shall be borne and sustained by the said Contractor.

And it is lastly agreed that in case of any act of omission, constituting a breach by the Contractor of any of the provisions or stipulations of this Contract, not being an act or omission for which any other particular penalty is hereinbefore provided, the Postmaster-General shall have the option of claiming from the Contractor, for and on account of every such act or omission, respectively, the payment of Ten Pounds Sterling, by way of assessed and liquidated damages, and not as a penalty; or otherwise, of claiming and recovering such further or other sum as the said Postmaster shall prove to be the amount of loss or damages actually sustained from or by reason of such act or omission.

Further information may be obtained on application at the Office of the Postmaster-General.

CHARLES PIERS, Postmaster-General.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the laws relating to game: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The following Game Law Proclamations are hereby repealed,—that is to say, the Proclamation dated 21st March, 1822, entitled "Game Law Proclamation;" the Proclamation dated 23rd August, 1822, entitled "Amendment of Game Law—Elephants;" and the Proclamation dated 14th March, 1823, entitled "Amendment of Game Law—Elands."

II. The legal meaning and import of the word "game" shall, for the purposes of this Act, be taken and understood to mean and comprehend the several birds and animals of this Colony following, not being domesticated, commonly known as paauw, korhaan, guinea-fowl, pheasant and partridge, elephant, camelopard, seacow (hippopotamus), buffalo, zebra, quagga, Burchell zebra, buck (comprehending the whole antelope species, including the gnu or wildebeest) and hare; and the words "game licence" shall, for the purposes of this Act and of the Stamp Act No. 3 of the year 1864, be taken and understood to mean a game licence duly issued by Government, on which the stamp duty of seven shillings and sixpence, or three shillings and ninepence, shall have been previously paid.

III. No person shall kill, catch, capture, sell, hawk, or expose for sale, hunt, or shoot at any ostrich not being domesticated, without having first obtained a licence to kill ostriches, under a penalty of any sum not less than twenty-five pounds, and not exceeding fifty pounds, for the first offence, and not exceeding one hundred pounds for every subsequent offence; and any person convicted under this section may be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not less than six months, and not exceeding one year, unless or until the fine be sooner paid.

IV. No person shall, whether having obtained a licence to kill ostriches or not, kill, catch, capture (save as hereinafter is provided), sell, hawk, or expose for sale, hunt, or shoot at, within any district of this Colony, any ostrich not being domesticated, within the months which shall in any such district be for the time being proclaimed as fence season for ostriches under the provisions of this Act, under like penalties as by the last foregoing section are provided in cases falling within that section.

V. For every licence to kill ostriches there shall be payable a stamp duty of fifteen pounds.

VI. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation to be by him issued, to fix and prescribe for the several districts in this Colony the close time or fence seasons within which it shall not be lawful to kill, pursue, hunt, or shoot at ostriches and the different kinds of game respectively within this Colony, either with or without a licence to kill ostriches, or a game licence respectively, or with or without the landowner's permission.

VII. No person shall, save as is hereinafter provided, kill, catch, capture, pursue, hunt, or shoot at, sell, hawk, or expose for sale game in any part of this Colony, without having previously obtained a game licence, under the penalty of three pounds sterling for the first offence, and six pounds sterling for every subsequent offence, to be recovered, together with the costs and expenses of the prosecution, on conviction, in the manner hereinafter provided; excepting [illegible] any game found injuring crops in cultivated lands or [illegible] however, shall be at liberty to pursue, shoot, [illegible] phant, hippopotamus, or [illegible] special permission to that effect from the Governor for the time being, under a penalty of fifty pounds sterling for each offence, or, on failure of payment thereof, six months' imprisonment, with or without hard labour.

VIII. No person shall kill, pursue, or shoot at game in any district of this Colony, or shall in such district possess, sell, hawk, or expose for sale, or shall in such district purchase, any game during the close time, which shall be proclaimed as such for any such game in any such district, under the penalty of six pounds sterling for the first offence, and twelve pounds sterling for every subsequent offence.

IX. No person shall, without special permission of the Governor, for purposes to be mentioned in such permission, as hereinafter is provided, at any time wilfully catch, take away, disturb or destroy eggs, or sell, hawk, or expose for sale, or shall purchase, eggs of any ostrich or game birds in any part of this Colony, under the penalty of any sum not exceeding three pounds sterling for the first offence, and not less than three pounds sterling, nor exceeding six pounds sterling, for every subsequent offence; and the said eggs shall be confiscated to Government, in whose custody soever the same may at any time be found, and may be seized brevi manu by any landowner, occupier of land, justice of the peace, field-cornet, constable, or police officer: Provided, always, that it shall be lawful for the Governor to permit under his hand any fit or proper person or persons to catch, take, or carry away the eggs of any ostrich or game bird, or the young of any ostrich or game, whether bird or other game, for the purpose of rearing or breeding the same, or for the purpose of acclimatization or scientific investigation; and any person so obtaining the Governor's written permission as aforesaid may himself obtain and take, or may by writing under his hand direct any person or persons to obtain or take, the said eggs, birds, or animals: Provided, always, that such writing shall distinctly state the number and denomination of such eggs, birds, or animals which the holders are employed to obtain or take, which shall collectively not exceed the number specified by the Governor's permission aforesaid. And any person obtaining or taking a greater number or other kinds of such eggs, birds, or animals than those specified in the Governor's permission as aforesaid, or giving or affecting to give to any person or persons authority to take or obtain, together with what he shall himself take or obtain, in the whole, more than the number or other than the kinds specified in such permission as aforesaid, shall be held guilty of wilfully taking all such young or eggs as he shall have taken or obtained, or shall have given or affected to give authority in the whole to take or obtain.

X. No person shall at any time, either with or without a game licence, kill, catch, capture, pursue, hunt, or shoot at any ostrich or game on any lands within this Colony, without the permission of the owner of such lands, if private property, under the penalty of any sum not exceeding three pounds sterling for the first offence, and not exceeding six pounds sterling for every subsequent offence, in addition to any penalty, if any, to which he may be liable under any other section of this Act,—the penalty provided by this section to be paid to the owner of the land; but any permission given by such owner after the event with reference to the offence shall be as valid as if given before the offence. But no penalty under this section shall in any case be enforced unless notice and warning shall have been given, either personally or by letter, or in the Government Gazette, or in a local newspaper, by the owner that he is desirous to preserve the game thereon.

XI. In any case prosecuted under this Act every ostrich or game animal shall be presumed to have been wild until shown to have been domesticated.

XII. The several fines abovementioned may be recovered by any person, on behalf as well of himself as of the Crown, in all cases where the fine shall not exceed fifty pounds sterling, in the Court of the Resident Magistrate of the district where the offence may have been committed, and in other cases in the Supreme Court, or the Court of the Eastern Districts, as the case may be, or the Circuit Court for the district where the offence may have been committed; and a moiety of any fine imposed upon any offender, on conviction, for contravening any of the provisions of this Act, shall, save as is hereinbefore otherwise specially provided, be paid to the person on whose information such conviction shall have taken place, provided such person be not an accessory.

XIII. It shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation in the Government Gazette, to proclaim and declare as to any parts of this Colony that any bird or animal, to be specified in such proclamation, shall be protected and not destroyed for any number of years, not exceeding three, to be mentioned in such proclamation, and also to extend to any such bird or other animal the protection of this Act, as if the same were included among the game animals in this Act defined, or to extend to any such bird or other animal the protection of such of the provisions of this Act as may be specified in such proclamation, as if such bird or other animal were expressly protected by name in such provisions, respectively; and also from time to time to revoke, alter, or amend such proclamation.

XIV. It shall be lawful for the Governor, on good cause shown by the civil commissioner or the divisional council of any of the divisions of the Colony, to suspend, by proclamation in the Government Gazette, in whole or in part, as may seem right, the operation of this Act, or any part or parts thereof, in the said division, for any time or with regard to any animal, or both for any time and with regard to any animal, to be specified in the said proclamation.

XV. Any offender being convicted for contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, in default of payment of the fine imposed upon him or her, and in default of other provision in that behalf in this Act specially provided, shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding [illegible] or without hard labour, and with or without [illegible] fine be sooner paid.

XVI. In any prosecution for infringement of any section of this Act by doing anything without licence, it shall be prima facie sufficient for the prosecutor to show that the accused does not appear as the holder of a licence in the list of persons to whom the requisite licence in such case shall have been issued, respectively, kept in the office of the resident magistrate before whom, or in whose district, such case shall be brought for trial in any court; but it shall be lawful for such accused person to rebut such evidence by proof that he was in fact, at the time of the commission of the offence charged, the lawful holder of such a licence.

BILL

FOR

Altering and amending, in certain respects, the Boundary Line between the Fiscal Divisions of Calvinia and Fraserburg.

(Introduced into the House of Assembly by G. GAIN, Esq., M.L.A. for ST. GEORGE BOYES, Esq., M.L.A.)

WHEREAS, by Act No. 12 of 1857, the district of Calvinia together with sundry other districts mentioned in a schedule to the said Act were constituted fiscal divisions: And whereas by Act No. 25 of 1858, the district of Fraserburg together with other districts

mentioned in the said Act were constituted fiscal divisions: And whereas by a Government Notice published in the Government Gazette, No. 2637, dated 10th August, 1855, defining the boundaries of the district of Calvinia, the eastern line is insufficiently described, thereby creating a confusion, inasmuch as certain farms,—to wit, Oorlogsfontein, Vanderwalts Kraal, Plattekraal, Leenderts River, Bonekraal, Zeekoegat, Zandkraal, Zeekoegat, Droegeberg, Klipfontein, Rheboksfontein, Zandheuwel, and Vaarsche Vlei,—are enregistered in the fiscal registers of both the civil commissioners of Calvinia and Fraserburg, and the proprieters registered for electoral purposes in both the electoral divisions of Clanwilliam and Victoria West: And whereas the aforementioned farms are situate nearer to the seat of the resident magistrate of Calvinia, and the proprietors have hitherto resorted to the office of the civil commissioner of Calvinia to pay their rates and dues; and it is convenient that the said proprietors may have the advantage of transacting their judicial and fiscal business at the same place, instead of being compelled, as at present, to transact such business at another and, in general, far more distant place: And whereas the divisional councils of the respective divisions of Calvinia and Fraserburg have mutually agreed to alter and amend the boundary line between the two said divisions, and it is expedient to alter and amend the same: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. So much of the Ordinance for constituting a Parliament in this Colony, and commonly called the Constitution Ordinance, and of the hereinafore-cited Acts, 12 of 1857 and 25 of 1858, and of the Act No. 3 of 1865, and of any other Law or Ordinance in this Colony, as are repugnant to or inconsistent with this Act are hereby repealed.

II. The eastern boundary of the division of Calvinia shall be from the Roggeveld Berg, at the present junction of the division of Calvinia, Tulbagh, and Worcester, to and including the farm Koornlands Kloof; thence along the Rhenoster River to its junction with the Karega River; thence along the Karega River to its junction with the Great Riet River, including all the farms mentioned in the preamble to this Act; thence to the most northern point of Jan Zwaartsberg, along the ridge of said mountain; and from thence to the southern point of Nondees Mountain; from there a straight line to Kranskop; from there along the bed of Leeuwkuils River to where it falls into the Zak River, following the bed of the Zak River to Jonkerskop; thence along the bed of the said River to the Hartebeest river; and thence along the bed of the Hartebeest River to its junction with the Orange River.

III. The line described in the foregoing section as the eastern boundary of the division of Calvinia shall be, and form, the western boundary of the division of Fraserburg.

IV. All quitrents hitherto paid to the civil commissioner of the division of Calvinia by the proprietors of the farms mentioned in the preamble to this Act shall be considered as having been paid to the proper officer for receiving the same; and the civil commissioner of the division of Fraserburg is hereby authorized and required to expunge the said farms from his fiscal register, and to omit the quitrents of the same from his periodical returns of outstanding land rent for his division.

V. All road rates paid by the proprietors of the said farms prior to the passing of this Act shall be and remain the property of the divisional council to which the same shall have been paid.

BILL

FOR

The Protection of Private Property in Domesticated Ostriches.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS the farming of domesticated ostriches is likely to become an important branch of industry in the Colony, and it is expedient that the same should be encouraged by affording a more sufficient protection to the private property of the owners of such birds than can at present be afforded thereto: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. Whenever any ostrich which shall have been domesticated, and shall have been as such the lawful property of any person, while in his custody, or possession, or guardianship, either by himself or his servants, or within the bounds of any enclosure within which it shall have been placed by such person, or by his orders, or with his consent, express or implied, shall have strayed or escaped from such custody, possession, guardianship, or enclosure, the property in such ostrich of the person who was the lawful owner or custodian thereof, respectively, and of every other person who had at the time of such escape or straying any property therein,—all which persons shall for the purposes of this Act be designated by the term "owner of such ostrich,"—shall be deemed to continue therein unimpaired and unaffected by reason of such escape or straying as aforesaid, for a term not less than thirty days from the time of such escape or straying, and during such term of thirty days such ostrich shall be deemed not to have regained its natural liberty; and any person who shall kill, injure, or convert to his own use, during such period of thirty days, any such ostrich, shall be liable to account in damages to the owner of such ostrich in respect to any damage done to such owner's property therein, or to restore such ostrich, or both to restore such ostrich and to account in damages, as the case may be, in like manner as if such ostrich were an ox or other domestic animal.

II. If any person shall find any ostrich which shall have been domesticated as aforesaid trespassing on his property, he may lawfully impound the same in the nearest pound, and the provisions of the different laws relating to the impounding of cattle now in force in this Colony shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to domesticated ostriches; and the various bodies entrusted by law with the regulation of the pounds of this Colony are hereby directed to make such regulations as may be necessary in their districts, respectively, for regulating the pound fees and other matters relating to the impounding of ostriches requisite to the due carrying into effect of this enactment.

III. Nothing in this Act contained shall be held to take away, or limit, or curtail any right or property which but for this Act would have existed or be held to belong to any person in any domesticated ostrich in respect of its being domesticated, nor to take away any remedy, by way of action for trespass, or otherwise, of any person on whose property any domesticated ostrich shall have trespassed, or whose property such ostrich shall have in any way injuriously affected, which the owner of such property may have, or might but for this Act have had, against the owner of such ostrich in respect of damage done by such ostrich while remaining the property of such owner.

(Introduced into the House of Assembly by S. SOLOMON, Esq., M.L.A.)

WHEREAS, by Ordinance No. 3, 1852, forming the Schedule to the Order in Council passed at the Court at Buckingham Palace on the 11th day of March, 1853, it is enacted that, until Parliament shall otherwise direct, there shall be payable every year to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, out of the Revenue of the Colony, certain sums of money for defraying the expenses of the several services and purposes in the Schedules to the said Ordinance annexed set forth: And whereas amongst the said services it is provided, under Schedule C, annexed to the said Ordinance, that there shall be payable as aforesaid for Public Worship the sum of £16,060: And whereas it is desirable that the different Religious Communities of the Colony should be left to their own efforts and resources for securing the means of Religious Worship and Instruction, and that, the interests of existing incumbents being duly protected, the support now given to Christian Ministers from the Public Revenue should be withdrawn: Be it enacted as follows:

I. Schedule C of the said Ordinance, No. 3, 1852, shall be and is hereby repealed.

BILL

TO

Regulate the Sale of Arsenic and other Poisons.

(Introduced into the House of Assembly by Dr. WHITE, M.L.A.)

WHEREAS the indiscriminate sale of arsenic and other poisons has led to many fatal mistakes, and facilitates crime: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof:

I. No person not duly licensed as an apothecary or chemist in this Colony shall sell by retail any arsenic or other poisonous drug or chemical; and any person so offending shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds, or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months.

II. Every such licensed person who shall sell any arsenic or any other deleterious drug or chemical known to be a poison shall forthwith, and before the delivery of such arsenic or other poison to the purchaser, enter, or cause to be entered, in a fair and regular manner, in a book or books to be kept by such person for that purpose, in the form set forth in the schedule to this Act, or to the like effect, a statement of such sale, with the quantity of arsenic or other poison to be sold, and the purpose for which such arsenic or poison is required, or stated to be required, and the day of the month and year of the sale, and the name, place of abode, and condition or occupation of the purchaser,—into all which circumstances the person selling such arsenic or other poison is hereby required and authorized to inquire of the purchaser, before the delivery to the purchaser of the arsenic or other poison sold; and such entries shall in every case be signed by the person making the same, and shall also be signed by the purchaser, unless such purchaser profess to be unable to write (in which case the person making the entries hereby required shall add to the particulars to be entered in relation to such sale the words "cannot write"), and where a witness is required to the sale, shall also be signed by such witness, together with his place of abode.

III. No person shall sell arsenic or any other poison to any person who is unknown to the person selling such arsenic or other poison, unless the sale be made in the presence of a witness who is known to the person selling the arsenic or other poison, and to whom the purchaser is known, and who signs his name, together with his place of abode, to such entries before the delivery of the arsenic or other poison to the purchaser; and no person shall sell arsenic or other poison to any person other than a male person of full age.

IV. No person shall sell arsenic unless the same be, before the sale thereof, mixed with indigo, in the proportion of half an ounce of indigo, at the least, to one pound of arsenic, and so in proportion for any greater or less quantity: Provided, always, that where such arsenic is stated by the purchaser to be required, not for use in agriculture, but for some other purpose for which such admixture would, according to the representation of the purchaser, render it unfit, such arsenic may be sold without such admixture in any quantity of not less than ten pounds at any one time.

V. Every person, not a licensed apothecary or chemist, keeping arsenic or any other poison other than in a safe and separate place under lock and key, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanour; and in case any fatal mistake should happen from the keeping of such arsenic or other poison in places where articles of food, or any condiment used in the preparation of food, are kept, any person so having placed the poison shall be liable, upon due conviction, to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds, or to a period of imprisonment not exceeding twelve months, with or without hard labour.

VI. If any person shall sell arsenic or any other poison, save as authorized by this Act, or on any sale of arsenic or other poison shall deliver the same without having made and signed the entries hereby required on such sale, or without having obtained such signature or signatures to such entries as required by this Act; or if any person purchasing such arsenic or other poison shall give false information to the person selling the same in relation to the particulars which such lastmentioned person is hereby authorized to inquire into of such purchaser; or if any person shall sign his name as aforesaid as a witness to a sale of arsenic or other poison to a person unknown to the person so signing as a witness, every person so offending shall, for every such offence, upon conviction before a magistrate, be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds, or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

VII. Provided that this Act shall not extend to the sale of arsenic or other poisons when the same forms part of the ingredients of any medicine required to be made up or compounded according to the prescription of a legally qualified medical practitioner or a member of the medical profession, or to the sale of arsenic by wholesale to retail dealers upon orders, in writing, in the ordinary course of wholesale dealing.

VIII. In the construction of this Act, the word "arsenic" shall mean all poisonous preparations of arsenic.

This Company having a Revenue from Premiums alone of One Hundred and Forty Thousand Pounds per Annum, is in a position to transact every description of LIFE ASSURANCE on as favourable terms as any other Company of equal standing.

Holders of Life Policies on the profit scale, who may hereafter fill confidential situations and require to be guaranteed, may secure considerable reductions in their life premiums, by making their life policies contingent on the continuance of fidelity.

Three fourths of the Profits are divisible amongst the Policy-holders on the "Profit Scale of Premiums," affording the advantages of Mutual Assurance, with the further security of a large subscribed capital, the prudent employment of which gives a greater ratio of increase to business and to profits than a purely Mutual Society can achieve.

Assurances are granted for £10,000 on a single life.

Premiums may be paid in one sum, or yearly, or by half-yearly, or quarterly instalments.

Policies upon which five years' payments have been made, are purchased by the Society or the Policy-holders, if unable to continue paying, may receive fresh Policies in exchange (on which no further payment is required), equivalent to the then value of the Premiums already paid.

On Policies amounting to £200 and upwards for the whole of life, one-half of the Premium may remain unpaid at Interest for five years.

No extra Premium charged for voyage to and residence in any part of Europe, New Zealand, Australia (except at the "Diggings,") the Cape Colony, or British America.

This is the only Society transacting Life Assurance with Fidelity Guarantee, whose Policies of Guarantee are authorized (by Special Act of Parliament) to be accepted by Government.

The Guarantee Policies of this Society are accepted by the Treasury, Poor Law Board, and other public departments, and by the leading London and Provincial Joint-Stock and Private Banks, the principal Railway Companies, Life and Fire Offices, Public Companies, Institutions, and Commercial Firms throughout the Kingdom.

Immediate Annuities payable during the whole of Life may be purchased on the following Scale:

I. This Act may be cited as the "Contagious Diseases Prevention Act, 1868."

II. In the construction of this Act, the term "contagious disease" shall be taken to mean any venereal disease. The term "hospital" shall be taken to mean any ward or part of a hospital, or any other building which may be appointed by the Governor to be used as a hospital, for the purposes of this Act.

III. The districts within which this Act shall be in force shall be the districts defined in Schedule ———, hereunto annexed, and such other districts as the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, shall, for the time being, define by proclamation, to be published in the Government Gazette; and such districts, whether defined in the said schedule hereto, or by such proclamation as aforesaid, may be altered from time to time, with the like advice and by a like proclamation, to be published in like manner; and every such proclamation as in this section mentioned shall take effect from the day on which the same shall be published, unless some day from which the same shall take effect shall be named in such proclamation, in which case such proclamation shall take effect from the day so named.

IV. It shall be lawful for the Governor to appoint some duly qualified medical practitioner to be medical inspector of contagious diseases for each of the districts in the preceding section mentioned; and every such medical inspector shall be paid such remuneration as Parliament shall from time to time appoint.

V. Within every such district every woman practising prostitution shall, except as is hereinafter excepted, be liable to be inspected thrice in each month by the medical inspector of such district, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such woman is or is not affected with any contagious disease, and every such woman shall, in the first instance, be summoned by an order, in writing or in print, or partly in one and partly in the other, signed by such medical inspector, or by an inspector or sub-inspector of police for the district, to attend at such time and place as may be named in such order, in order to be so inspected.

VI. If any such woman shall refuse or neglect to attend according to the tenor of such order, or if, having attended, she shall not submit to be inspected, she may be arrested by warrant of the resident magistrate within whose jurisdiction the district in which she resides or practises prostitution shall be, who shall grant a warrant for her arrest upon its being made to appear on oath that such woman is, on good grounds, supposed to be a prostitute, and was duly served with such order as aforesaid, and neglected or refused to attend according to the tenor thereof, or, having attended, that she refused to be examined; and upon such arrest the magistrate, upon proof made to the same effect, and that such woman is a prostitute, and after hearing what may be advanced by such woman and her witnesses to the contrary, may order such woman to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, or with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding ————.

VII. If any such woman shall, while undergoing any sentence of imprisonment under the preceding section, signify her readiness to submit to inspection, she shall on the first convenient occasion be released from such imprisonment, and be brought before the medical inspector for inspection in due course.

VIII. If, upon any such inspection, the medical inspector shall find any such woman to be affected with contagious disease, such woman shall, if she willingly submit thereto, be taken to the proper hospital, and shall be received and detained there for medical treatment, and shall not be discharged therefrom until reported cured; and the order of such medical inspector shall be a sufficient warrant to the officers of such hospital for receiving and detaining such woman until she be reported cured.

IX. X. The resident magistrate shall, at the request of any such woman, on the examination of the matter in the last preceding section mentioned, before making the order therein mentioned, on such woman tendering the expenses necessary for the purpose, summon two medical practioners, other than the medical inspector, one of whom may be named by such woman, to examine her, and shall, after their having examined her, take their evidence, upon oath, as to whether such woman is or is not affected with contagious disease, and shall be guided by the whole evidence on the case as to the order which he shall make.

XI. If any woman who shall have been admitted into hospital under the provisions of any of the preceding sections shall make her escape from the same before she be reported cured, or if any such woman shall refuse or neglect to conform to the regulations of such hospital during the period for which she may be lawfully detained therein, such woman shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, and with or without spare diet, for any term not exceeding ————.

XIII. It shall be the duty of the medical inspector, in the case of every woman who, upon inspection as aforesaid, shall be found to be free from any contagious disease, or who, after admission into hospital as aforesaid, shall be reported cured, to grant to such woman a certificate thereof, according to the form in the Schedule ———— hereunto annexed, and such certificate shall state the term for which the same shall remain in force, and the time and place at which such woman shall be required to attend for the purpose of being again inspected.

XIV. Attorney for the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited).

BILL

FOR

Permitting certain Lands now standing enregistered in the Names of the Trustees of the, King William's Town Stud Farm Company and the King William's Town Grand Stand and Race Course Company, to be transferred to the Trustees of a certain Company called the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), freed from the Conditions and Restrictions mentioned and contained in the Grants of the said Lands, respectively, and for other purposes.

WHEREAS John Maclean, Esq., C.B., formerly Lieutenant-Governor of the Territories of British Kaffraria, &c., did, on the 24th day of February, 1863, grant on freehold unto John Clarke Perks, George Bellamy Christian, and George Prescott Perks, in their capacity as trustees of the King William's Town Grand Stand and Race Course Company, a piece of land containing two acres three roods and six-sixteenth poles, situate between King William's Town and Fort Murray, in the Territories of British Kaffraria, on the condition that no part of the said land should be alienated or disposed of without the consent of the Government first had and obtained, and that the same should be bonâ fide kept or used for the purposes for which the said company had been formed, and no other: And whereas, on the 30th day of November, 1863, the said John Maclean, Esq., as such Lieutenant-Governor, granted to the said trustees, on freehold, another piece of land, containing six hundred and nineteen and two-twelfth acres, more or less, situated near King William's Town, with similar conditions to those hereinbefore mentioned: And whereas on the 6th day of January, 1866, His Honour Robert Graham, Esq., Governor's Deputy of the Territories of British Kaffraria, &c., granted in freehold unto John Spyron, the younger, George Bellamy Christian, and George Prescott Perks, as trustees of the King William's Town Stud Farm Company, a piece of land containing nine hundred acres, or thereabouts, situated in the King William's Town Division, with similar conditions to those hereinbefore mentioned: And whereas the said two companies have disposed of all their right, title, and interest in and to the said three freehold grants of lands unto the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), which lastmentioned company has already expended a large sum of money,—to wit, a sum of twelve thousand pounds sterling, and upwards,—in and upon buildings, machinery, imported stock, and materials, now upon the said lands; and purposes, when a sufficient and proper title to the said lands has been obtained to the said company, freed and discharged from the existing restrictions, to carry on very extensive farming, breeding, and other operations in and upon the said lands, and especially to establish a depôt for the shipment of horses to India: And whereas it is expedient that such an undertaking should be encouraged, and that any prohibitions or restrictions which might tend to encumber the operations of the said company should be removed: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the said Governor to grant, as of new, in freehold, or subject to such reasonable annual quitrent as he may see fit to impose, the said three pieces of land in the division of King William's Town, unto Andrew Lawrie, Esquire, of 10, Charles-street, St. James's-square, London; James Hall, Esquire, Naval and Military Club, London; and Robert Hay Murray, Esquire, of West-hall, Byfleet in the County of Surrey, England, as the trustees of the said King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), or the trustees of the said company for the time being, and their assigns; and such grants, as of new, shall be free from any stipulations or restrictions other than those commonly provided or contained in freehold or quitrent grants in this Colony. And thereupon the said three grants of the 24th February and 30th November, 1863, and 6th January, 1866, shall be cancelled.

II. The said Governor may, if he shall see fit, grant on a similar tenure unto the said trustees, or the trustees for the time being, of the said King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), or their assigns, a piece of land on the Thomas River, in the division of Queen's Town, not exceeding in extent five thousand acres, for the purpose of enabling the said company to form a depôt, at a spot free from horse-sickness, for the rearing of young horses for the Indian market, and for washing wool, and other purposes.

III. All custom duties which might by any law now existing be chargeable upon machinery, implements, pipes for irrigation, and other materials imported by the said company, and used bonâ fide for the purposes of their improvements and general operations, and not for sale or barter, shall be, and the same are hereby remitted.

BILL

TO

Regulate the Removal of Cattle beyond the Eastern Borders of the Colony.

(Introduced into the House of Assembly by C. A. SMITH, Esq., M.L.A.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the terms upon which cattle may be removed beyond the eastern borders of the Colony: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall not be lawful for any person to ride, drive, or lead cattle from within the Colony, across any part of the borders thereof to the eastward of the village of Aliwal North, unless he shall be provided with a certificate in the form in the Schedule A to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, signed by some person duly authorized by the Governor to sign the same, showing the place from which such cattle have come, and whither and to whom they are going, and also the number and description of the cattle, and the name or names of the driver or drivers thereof: Provided that cattle employed in drawing any wagon or other vehicle, whether inspanned or outspanned, or cattle in the possession or custody of the police, or cattle impounded or about to be impounded, shall not be deemed to be cattle subject to the provisions in this Act contained.

II. It shall be lawful for any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or other person thereto duly authorized by the Governor, who shall find any person riding, driving, or leading, cattle (not being cattle excepted under the first section hereof) towards any part of the borders of the Colony to the eastward of the village of Aliwal North, and at or in the immediate vicinity of such border, to call upon the person riding, driving, or leading the same to produce the certificate in the preceding section mentioned; and if such person shall fail or refuse to produce such certificate, or if the cattle so ridden, led, or driven shall not fairly correspond with the certificate accompanying the same, then such justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or other person thereto duly authorized as aforesaid, shall take possession of all such cattle, and, subject to such local regulations as may hereafter from time to time be framed or approved by the Governor, and published in the Government Gazette, shall either convey them, or cause them to be conveyed, to the nearest pound, there to remain until liberated by order of the resident magistrate, or otherwise disposed of, as hereinafter provided; or shall convey them, or cause them to be conveyed, before the nearest magistrate, who may forthwith release such cattle, or detain them until further proof of ownership is produced, or release them on satisfactory security being given that they will be produced when required; or cause them to be impounded as aforesaid, as may seem to him to be most in accordance with substantial justice: Provided, always, that such cattle, so brought as aforesaid before the nearest magistrate, shall not be finally released until any charges under the eighth section hereof shall have been paid: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or other person to take possession of any cattle that he may find depasturing on any land immediately adjoining the limits of the Colony, or being conveyed to water, unless he shall have reason to suspect that such cattle are not in the lawful possession of the person in charge of the same, or shall have reason to believe that it is the intention of such person in charge to drive such cattle across the borders of the Colony. But nothing hereinbefore provided shall be construed to limit any power which any person may already possess, under any Ordinance, of taking possession of cattle found trespassing or straying, or [illegible] to be stolen.

III. [illegible] person conveying any cattle to the pound as aforesaid, forthwith, either in person or by letter, inform the resident magistrate of the district that he has caused such cattle to be impounded, and shall also communicate to such magistrate any information regarding such cattle which he may have been able to collect.

IV. It shall not be lawful for any person to ride, drive, or lead cattle through that part of the River Kei which forms the eastern boundary of the divisions of King William's Town and East London, except at certain authorized drifts; and it shall be lawful for the Governor, by proclamation in the Government Gazette, to specify the drifts which, within the aforesaid limits, may be lawfully used, and by further proclamation in the Government Gazette from time to time to alter and amend such proclamation as to him may seem expedient.

V. It shall be lawful for any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, landowner, or headman of any native village, who shall find any person attempting to ride, drive, or lead cattle through any part of the River Kei within the aforesaid limits, not being an authorized drift, to detain such cattle, and convey them, or cause them to be conveyed, before the nearest magistrate, who may forthwith release such cattle, or detain them until further proof of ownership is produced, or release them on satisfactory security being given that they will be produced when required, or cause them to be impounded, as may seem to him to be most in accordance with substantial justice: Provided, however, that such cattle shall not be finally released until any charges under the eighth section hereof shall have been paid.

VI. Any person claiming any cattle impounded under the provisions of this Act may apply to the resident magistrate of the district in which the same shall be impounded for an order for the liberation thereof; and such magistrate shall inquire into the case, and if satisfied by the person so applying that the said cattle are his lawful property, then such magistrate shall give an order, in writing, directed to the poundmaster of the pound in which such cattle shall have been impounded, directing the liberation of such cattle; and the person obtaining and presenting such order shall, upon paying the pound fees and charges, be entitled to receive such cattle.

VII. Should the person claiming any such cattle fail to show to the satisfaction of such resident magistrate, on due inquiry made, that such cattle are his lawful property, or should the cattle not be claimed, such cattle shall be treated as cattle impounded under the Ordinance No. 16 of 1847, entitled "Ordinance for the better Regulation of Pounds and Prevention of Trespass," and the proceeds of sale shall, after payment of all expenses, be handed over to the civil commissioner of the division in which such sale is effected, by whom it shall, if claimed within twelve months, be paid to the owner of such cattle, or, if not so claimed, shall be paid into the public treasury. And it shall and may be lawful for the Governor, upon the recommendation of such resident magistrate, out of the fund so created, to reward any person or persons who, under the second and fifth sections of this Act, shall have detained or given such information as to lead to the detention of stolen cattle.

VIII. It shall, subject to regulations, if any, which may from time to time be framed by the Governor for this purpose, be in the discretion of the magistrate before whom any cattle may be brought under this Act, or of the resident magistrate of the district in the case of cattle impounded under this Act, to allow or disallow to the person who has taken possession of any such cattle, and conveyed them, or caused them to be conveyed, to the nearest pound or before the nearest magistrate, as the case may be, mileage, at the rates provided in the fifth section of the aforementioned Ordinance, No. 16 of 1847, or at such lower rates as the Governor may from time to time sanction in such aforesaid regulations; and no mileage shall be payable by any poundmaster for any such cattle so impounded, without an order from the resident magistrate of the district.

IX. If any person shall by force and violence, or by threatening to use force and violence, prevent, or attempt to prevent, any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, or other duly authorized person, from conveying, or causing to be conveyed, to the pound, or before the nearest magistrate any cattle which he shall [illegible] under this Act, to convey to the pound or before such [illegible] person so offending shall be guilty of the [illegible] section of this Act, and shall, upon conviction [illegible] sum not exceeding ——— [illegible] or without hard labour, for any period [illegible]

The certificate aforesaid shall bear the date upon which it is issued, and it may be signed and issued by any resident magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, or other person within the Colony, lawfully authorized to issue such certificate: Provided, always, that for the purpose of driving or leading cattle to or over any part of the division in which the owner or bailee of such cattle resides, or to any place, whether within or beyond the limits of such division, within a rayon of twenty-five miles from the residence of such owner or bailee, it shall be sufficient if the certificate be signed and issued by such owner or bailee; and any certificate so signed and issued by any owner or bailee may be made available for the purpose of driving or leading such cattle out of the division in which the owner or bailee resides, or to any place beyond such rayon of twenty-five miles, by being countersigned by any such magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, or other person as aforesaid.

III. Any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, landowner, or tenant who shall find any person driving, leading, or in possession of any cattle within any such district as aforesaid (not being cattle excepted under the first section hereof), may require such person to produce such certificate; and in case he shall not do so, or in case the certificate, when produced by him, shall make mention of a number of cattle fewer than the number found with such person, or of a description of cattle different from the description of cattle found with such person, or in case the marks of the cattle mentioned in the certificate shall materially differ from the marks of the cattle found with such person, then the justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, landowner, or tenant may take possession of all such cattle, and should he do so, shall then, subject to such local regulations as may hereafter from time to time be framed or approved by the Governor, and published in the Government Gazette, either convey them, or cause them to be conveyed, to the nearest pound, there to remain until liberated by order of the resident magistrate, or otherwise disposed of, as hereinafter provided, or convey them, or cause them to be conveyed, before the nearest magistrate, who may forthwith release such cattle, or detain them until further proof of ownership is produced, or release them on satisfactory security being given that they will be produced when required, or cause them to be impounded as aforesaid, as may seem to him to be most in accordance with substantial justice: Provided, always, that such cattle, so brought as aforesaid before the nearest magistrate, shall not be finally released, until any charges under the eighth section hereof shall have been paid.

IV. The officer or person conveying any cattle to the pound as aforesaid shall forthwith, either in person or by letter, inform the resident magistrate of the district that he has caused such cattle to be impounded, and shall also communicate to such magistrate any information regarding such cattle which he may have been able to collect.

V. Any person claiming any such cattle so impounded as his lawful property may apply to the resident magistrate of the district for an order for the liberation thereof, and such magistrate shall inquire into the case, and if satisfied by the person so applying that the said cattle are his lawful property, then such magistrate shall give an order, in writing, directed to the poundmaster of the pound in which such cattle shall have been impounded, directing the liberation of such cattle; and the person obtaining and presenting such order shall, upon paying the pound fees and charges, be entitled to receive such cattle: Provided that the magistrate giving such order shall, at the same time, give a certificate under this Act, for the protection of such cattle after their release from the pound, so long as any conditions stated in such certificate are complied with.

VI. Should the person claiming any such cattle fail to show to the satisfaction of such resident magistrate, on due inquiry made, that such cattle are his lawful property, or should the cattle not be claimed, such cattle shall be treated as cattle impounded under the Ordinance No. 16 of 1847, entitled "Ordinance for the better Regulation of Pounds and Prevention of Trespass," and the proceeds of sale shall, after payment of all expenses, be handed over to the civil commissioner of the division in which such sale is effected, by whom it shall, if claimed within twelve months, be paid to the owner of such cattle, or, if not so claimed, shall be paid into the public treasury: And it shall and may be lawful for the Governor, upon the recommendation of such resident magistrate, out of the fund so created, to reward any person or persons who, under this Act, shall have detained or given such information as to lead to the detention of stolen cattle.

VII. It shall be lawful for any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, landowner, or tenant, who shall find any person driving, leading, or in possession of any cattle, within any such district aforesaid (not being cattle excepted under the first section hereof), to require such person to state his place of residence; and if such person, being so required, shall state as his residence any place within five miles of the place where he makes such statement, which place so stated as his residence is not, in truth and fact, and to his knowledge, his place of residence, he shall be guilty of the crime of contravening this section of this Act, and shall, upon conviction, be liable to be fined any sum not exceeding ———— or to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any term not exceeding ———— : Provided that if he shall refuse to state his place of residence, it shall be deemed and taken that such residence is more than five miles distant from the place where he shall have been found as aforesaid.

VIII. It shall, subject to regulations, if any, which may from time to time be framed by the Governor for this purpose, be in the discretion of the magistrate before whom any cattle may be brought under this Act, or of the resident magistrate of the district, in the case of cattle impounded under this Act, to allow or disallow to the person who has taken possession of any such cattle, and conveyed them, or caused them to be conveyed, to the nearest pound, or before the nearest magistrate, as the case may be, mileage, at the rates provided in the fifth section of the aforementioned Ordinance No. 16 of 1847, or at such lower rates as the Governor may from time to time sanction in such aforesaid regulations; and no mileage shall be payable by any poundmaster for any cattle so impounded, without an order from the resident magistrate of the district.

IX. If any person shall by force and violence, or by threatening to use force and violence, prevent or attempt to prevent any justice of the peace, field-cornet, police officer, constable, landowner, or tenant from conveying or causing to be conveyed to the pound, or before the nearest magistrate any cattle which he shall claim a right under this Act to convey to the pound or before such magistrate, such person so offending shall be guilty of the crime of contravening this section of this Act, and shall, upon conviction, be liable to be fined any sum not exceeding ————, or to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding ————.

X. If any person found driving, leading, or in possession of any cattle, shall, upon being required so to do, state his true place of residence, and such place of residence shall not be more than five miles distant from the place where he shall have been so found, and if, notwithstanding, the cattle found with him shall be conveyed to the pound or before a magistrate, upon the allegation that he has not stated his true place of residence, or that the place stated by him is more than five miles from the place where he makes such statement, he shall be entitled to recover from the person who shall have conveyed, or caused to be conveyed, such cattle to the pound or before a magistrate compensation for all such damages as he shall have sustained by reason of such cattle having been impounded or brought before a magistrate, including all pound fees payable or already paid.

XI. If any person found driving or leading any cattle shall, upon being thereto required, produce to the person requiring the same a certificate issued under this Act proper and sufficient for the protection of such cattle, and if, notwithstanding, the cattle found with him shall be conveyed to the pound or before a magistrate, upon the allegation that the certificate so produced is not proper or sufficient, then he shall be entitled to recover from the person who shall have conveyed, or caused to be conveyed, such cattle to the pound or before a magistrate, compensation for all such damages as he shall have sustained by reason of such cattle having been impounded or brought before a magistrate, including all pound fees and charges payable or already paid.

XII. As often as the defendant against whom any such damages as in the last section mentioned shall have been recovered shall be a member of any police force in the Colony, then such damages shall, in the first instance, be paid to the plaintiff from and out of the public revenue of the Colony, and shall be by the Colonial Government recoverable from the defendant, or deducted from his pay.

XIII. No resident magistrate, justice of the peace, field-cornet, or other person authorized to issue certificates, shall make any charge for any certificate issued or countersigned by him, under a penalty of ———— for each offence; but the civil commissioner of every district shall cause all such officers or persons as aforesaid to be supplied with a sufficient number of printed forms gratuitously, on application at his office, and he shall also supply printed forms to persons known to him within his district, at a charge not exceeding sixpence for each dozen of forms so supplied; and every such civil commissioner shall be supplied with a sufficient number of forms for the purpose aforesaid by the divisional council of the district, but the council shall be entitled to receive from such civil commissioner all moneys received by him for the sale of such forms under the authority hereinbefore given.

XIV. If any person not authorized to issue certificates under this Act shall demand or accept money or other valuable consideration for giving any paper writing or other thing intended to be or to serve as such a certificate, the person giving such paper or other thing as aforesaid shall be guilty of the crime of contravening this section of this Act, and shall, upon conviction, forfeit any sum not exceeding ———— ————, and in default of payment be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for any period not exceeding ————.

XV. Any person who shall hereafter find any sheep which shall have been lambed after the first day of January, 1868, with one or both ears entirely cut off, or with both ears so cut that the length of neither exceeds one imperial inch, may report the same to the magistrate of the district in which such sheep are found, who may send for and take possession of them, but shall restore them to the person found in possession thereof, on the production of positive and most satisfactory proofs of ownership, and on payment of all expenses; subject, however, to the condition that such sheep shall be slaughtered within such period as such magistrate may fix and determine: Provided that such magistrate shall at the same time give a certificate which shall protect such sheep until the expiry of the time stated in the condition aforesaid.

XVI. Should the person found in possession of such sheep fail, after such delay as may seem to be reasonable, to produce positive and satisfactory proofs as aforesaid, the magistrate aforesaid shall cause such sheep to be sold by public auction, subject to the condition and proviso in the preceding section mentioned; and the proceeds of such sale shall, after payment of all expenses, be paid in equal moieties to the informer and into the public treasury.

XVII. All damages and penalties made payable by this Act may be recovered before the resident magistrate of the district within which the cause of action or offence originated.

XVIII. Nothing in this Act contained shall extend to, alter, or affect any law previously in force in this Colony regarding the crime of theft, or regarding the crime of receiving stolen goods knowing the same to have been stolen, or regarding the apprehension of thieves or suspected thieves.

XIX. For the purposes of this Act, the term "magistrate" shall be taken to include every resident magistrate and every Government officer within the Colony in charge of one or more native locations, whether superintendent of Fingoes, special magistrate, native commissioner, or clerk in charge.

XX. The word "cattle" in this Act shall mean any horse, mule, ass, or head of horned cattle, or any sheep or goat.

XXI. The Governor may, on the request of the divisional council of any division made, or hereafter to be made, subject to the provisions of this Act, issue a proclamation in the Government Gazette suspending the operation of this Act in such division, either indefinitely or for any specified period, and thereupon, during such specified period, or if no period shall have been specified, until such division shall again, under the first section, be proclaimed in the Government Gazette as being made subject to this Act, the provisions of this Act shall cease to have any effect within such division.

4. Whenever it shall be proved by any means to the satisfaction of the court that the company is unable to pay its debts.

III. Every application to the court for winding up of a company under this Act shall be by petition to the Supreme Court, and may be presented by the company, if incorporated in the Colony, or by any officer of the company, if not incorporated in this Colony, authorized to sue in the name or on behalf of the company, or by one or more than one creditor of the company, or by one or more than one member of or contributory to the company, or by all or any of the above parties; and every order for winding up which shall be made on such petition shall have the same effect, no matter on whose petition the same shall be made.

V. VI. Upon the hearing of any petition for winding up, the court may dismiss the same with or without costs, or may adjourn the hearing thereof conditionally or unconditionally, and may make such interim or interlocutory order on the same, and may direct such inquiries or generally may make such order as may seem just.

VII. When any order shall have been made for winding up a company, no action, suit, or other proceeding shall be brought or further prosecuted against the company, except by leave of the court, and under such conditions, if any, as the court may impose.

VIII. The court may at any time after such order, on the application of the liquidator or liquidators, either general or provisional, or of any creditor of or contributory to such company, or other person showing an interest in the matter, and upon proof to the satisfaction of the court that all or any proceedings in relation to such winding up ought to be stayed either absolutely or conditionally, or suspended for any time, make order accordingly, subject or not subject to conditions, or any other order of the same nature as shall to the court seem just.

IX. The court may in all matters under this Act give such weight as shall seem just to the wishes of creditors of or contributories to any company on the subject of any proceeding under this Act, and may regard the wishes or votes of such creditors and contributories, or of any particular classes of such, respectively, as respects number and as respects value, and as respects the power of voting given by the articles of association of the company, if any, according as may seem just with regard to the matter before the court, and may direct meetings of creditors or of contributories, or of both, or of any particular classes thereof, to be called, held, and conducted in such place and in such manner as may seem just, for the purpose of ascertaining their wishes, and may appoint the person to act as chairman of any such meeting and to report to the court the result thereof.

X. For the purpose of conducting the proceedings in winding up a company, the court may appoint a person or persons to be called an official liquidator, or official liquidators, and may make such appointment for any time and subject to any conditions which shall seem right. In all cases, if more persons than one are appointed to the office of official liquidator, the court shall declare whether any act hereby required or authorized to be done by the official liquidator is to be done by all, or any one or more of such persons. The court may determine also whether any, and what, security is to be given by any official liquidator on his appointment. If no official liquidator is appointed, or during any vacancy in such appointment, all the property of the company shall be deemed in the custody of the court; and in any indictment for theft thereof, or of any part thereof, under such circumstances, or for any similar purpose, the property may be laid in the Master of the Supreme Court.

XI. Any official liquidator may resign, or may be removed by the court on due cause shown, and any vacancy in the office of official liquidator may be filled by the court, and not otherwise.

XII. There shall be paid to the official liquidator such salary or remuneration, by way of percentage or otherwise, and dependent on his good behaviour in his office, as the court may direct, and if more liquidators than one are appointed such remuneration shall be distributed among them in such proportions as the court shall direct.

XIII. The official liquidator or official liquidators shall be described by the style of the official liquidator or official liquidators of the company in respect of which he or they shall be appointed, and not by his or their individual name or names. He or they shall take into his or their custody or under his or their control all the property, effects, and things in action or possession to which the company is or appears to be entitled, and shall perform such duties in reference to the winding up of the company as may be imposed by the court.

XIV. The official liquidator shall have power, with the sanction of the court, to do the following things:

1. To bring or defend any action, suit, or proceeding, civil or criminal, in the name and on behalf of the company.
2. To carry on the business of the company so far as may be necessary for the beneficial winding up of the same.
3. To sell the movable and immovable property and effects and things in action or possession belonging to the company, by public auction or private contract, with power to transfer the whole thereof to any person or company or to sell the same in parcels.
4. To do all acts, and to execute in the name and on behalf of the company all deeds, receipts, and other documents, and for that purpose to use, when necessary, the company's seal, if any.
5. To prove, rank, claim, and draw dividend in the matter of any insolvency of any contributory for any balance against the estate of such contributory, and to take and receive dividends in respect of such balance in the matter of the insolvency as a separate debt due from such insolvent, and rateably with his other creditors or with preference, as the case may be.
6. To draw, accept, make, and endorse any bill of exchange or promissory note in the name and on behalf of the company, wherever the company itself was authorized to draw, accept, make, or endorse such bills or notes, respectively, also to raise upon the security of the assets of the [illegible] time to time any requisite sum or sums [illegible] the drawing, accepting, making or [illegible] bill or note as aforesaid on behalf of [illegible] the same effect with respect to [illegible] as if such [illegible] endorsed by or on behalf of such company in the course of carrying on the business thereof.

7. To take out, if necessary, in his official name, letters of administration to any deceased contributory, and to do in his official name any other act that may be necessary for obtaining payment of any moneys due from a contributory or his estate, which act cannot be conveniently done in the name of the company, and in all cases where he takes out letters of administration, or otherwise uses his official name for obtaining payment of any moneys due from a contributory, such moneys shall, for the purpose of enabling him to take out such letters or recover such moneys, be deemed to be due to the official liquidator himself.

8. To do and execute all such other things as may be necessary for winding up the affairs of the company and distributing its assets.

XV. The court may provide by any order that the official liquidators may exercise any of the above powers without the sanction or intervention of the court, and where an official liquidator is provisionally appointed may limit and restrict his powers by the order appointing him.

XVI. The official liquidator may, with the sanction of the court, appoint an attorney-at-law to assist him in the performance of his duties.

XVII. As soon as may be after making an order for winding up the company, the court shall settle a list of contributories, with power to rectify the register of members in all cases where such rectification is required in pursuance of this Act, and shall cause the assets of the company to be collected and applied in discharge of its liabilities.

XVIII. In settling the list of contributories the court shall distinguish between persons who are contributories in their own right and persons who are contributories as being representatives of or being liable to the debts of others.

XIX. The court may, at any time after making an order for winding up a company, require any contributory for the time being settled on the list of contributories, trustee, receiver, banker, or agent or officer of the company, to pay, deliver, convey, surrender, or transfer forthwith, or within such time as the court directs, to or into the hands of the official liquidator, all moneys, books, papers, estate, or effects which happen to be in his hands for the time being and to which the company is primâ facie entitled.

XX. The court may, at any time after making an order for winding up the company, make an order on any contributory for the time being settled on the list of contributories, directing payment to be made in manner in the said order mentioned of any moneys due from him, or from the estate of the person whom he represents, to the company, exclusive of any moneys which he, or the estate of the person whom he represents, may be liable to contribute by virtue of any call made or to be made by the court in pursuance of this Act; and it may, in making such order, when the company is not limited, allow to such contributory, by way of set off, any moneys due to him, or the estate which he represents, from the company on any independent dealing or contract with the company, but not any moneys due to him as a member of the company in respect of any dividend or profit: Provided that when all the creditors of any company, whether limited or unlimited, are paid in full, any moneys due on any account whatever to any contributory from the company may be allowed to him by way of set-off against any subsequent call or calls.

XXI. The court may, at any time after making an order for winding up a company, and either before or after it has ascertained the sufficiency of the assets of the company, make calls on, and order payment thereof by, all or any of the contributories for the time being settled on the list of contributories, to the extent of their liability, for payment of all or any sums it deems necessary to satisfy the debts and liabilities of the company, and the costs, charges, and expenses of winding it up, and for the adjustment of the rights of the contributories amongst themselves, and shall, in making any call, consider the rights of such contributories amongst themselves, and so make such call as to conduce to the ultimate adjustment of such rights without prejudice to the paramount rights of creditors and others, if any; and it may, in making a call, take into consideration the probability that some of the contributories upon whom the same is made may partly or wholly fail to pay their respective portions of the same.

XXII. The court may order any contributory, purchaser, or other person from whom money is due to the company, to pay the same into some bank of good repute to be named by the court, to an account to be opened therewith in the name of the official liquidator, instead of to the official liquidator; and such order may be enforced in the same manner as if it had directed payment to the official liquidator.

XXIII. All moneys, bills, notes, and other securities paid and delivered into such bank as aforesaid shall be subject to such order and regulation for the keeping of the account of such moneys and other effects, and for the payment and delivery in, or investment and payment and delivery out of, the same, as the court may direct.

XXIV. If any person made a contributory as personal representative of a deceased contributory makes default in paying any sum ordered to be paid by him, the official liquidator shall be deemed entitled to claim as a creditor on the estate of such deceased contributory in respect of the sum so ordered to be paid, and shall be entitled to take proceedings as such creditor for recovering such sum out of the estate of such deceased contributory.

XXV. Any order made by the court in pursuance of this Act upon any contributor shall, subject to the provisions herein contained for appealing against such order, be conclusive evidence that the moneys, if any, thereby appearing to be due or ordered to be paid are due, and all other pertinent matters stated in such order are to be taken to be truly stated as against all persons and in all proceedings whatsoever.

XXVI. The court may fix a certain day or certain days on or within which creditors of the company are to prove their debts or claims or be excluded from the benefit of any distribution made before such debts are proved.

XXVII. The court shall adjust the rights of the contributories amongst themselves and distribute any surplus that may remain amongst the parties entitled thereto.

XXVIII. The court may, in the event of the assets being insufficient to satisfy the liabilities, make an order as to the payment out of the estate of the company of the costs, charges, and expenses incurred in winding up any company, in such order of priority as the court thinks just.

XXIX. When the affairs of the company have been completely wound up the court shall make an order that the company be dissolved from the date of such order, and the company shall be dissolved accordingly.

XXX. Any order so made shall be published in the Government Gazette within ——— days after the making of such order.

XXXI. If the official liquidator makes default in publishing as aforesaid the order that the company be dissolved, he shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds sterling for every day during which he is so in default.

XXXII. The court may, after it has made an order for winding up the company, summon before it any officer of the company or person known or suspected to have in his possession any of the estate or effects of the company, or supposed to be indebted to the company, or any person whom the court may deem capable of giving information concerning the trade, dealings, estate, or effects of the company, and the court may require any such officer or person to produce any books, papers, deeds, writings, or other documents in his custody or power relating to the company; and if any person so summoned, after being tendered a reasonable sum for his expenses, refuses to come before the court at the time appointed, having no lawful impediment (made known to the court at the time of its sitting, and allowed by it), the court may cause such person to be apprehended and brought before the court for examination; nevertheless, in cases where any person claims any lien on papers, deeds, writings, or documents produced by him, such production shall be without prejudice to such lien, and the court shall have jurisdiction in the winding up to determine all questions relating to such lien.

XXXIII. The court may examine upon oath, either by word of mouth or upon written interrogations, any person appearing or brought before them in manner aforesaid, concerning the affairs, dealings, estate, or effects of the company, and may reduce into writing the answers of every such person and require him to subscribe the same.

XXXIV. The court may, at any time before or after it has made an order for winding up a company, upon proof being given that there is probable cause for believing that any contributory to such company is about to quit the Colony or otherwise abscond, or to remove or to conceal any of his goods or chattels, for the purpose of evading payment of calls, or for avoiding examination in respect of the affairs of the company, cause such contributory to be arrested, and his books, papers, moneys, securities for moneys, goods and chattels to be seized, and him and them to be safely kept until such time as the court may order.

XXXV. Any powers by this Act conferred on the court shall be deemed to be in addition to, and not in restriction of any, other powers subsisting, either at law or in equity, of instituting proceedings against any contributory, or the estate of any contributory, or against any debtor of the company, for the recovery of any call or other sums due from such contributory or debtor or his estate, and such proceedings may be instituted accordingly.

XXXVI. Rehearings of, and appeals from, any order or decision made or given in the matter of the winding up of a company by the court may be had in the same manner and subject to the same conditions in and subject to which appeals may be had from any order or decision of the same court in cases within its ordinary jurisdiction.

XXXVII. Where any company is being wound up under this Act all dispositions of the property, effects, and things in action of the company, and every transfer of shares or alteration in the status of the members of the company made between the commencement of the winding up and the order for winding up, shall, unless the court otherwise orders, be void.

XXXVIII. Where any company is being wound up, all books, accounts, and documents of the company and of the liquidators shall, as between the contributories of the company, be primâ facie evidence of the truth of all matters purporting to be therein recorded.

XXXIX. Where any company has been wound up under this Act, and is about to be dissolved, the books, accounts, and documents of the company and of the liquidators may be disposed of in such way as the court directs.

XL. When an order has been made for winding up a company the court may make such order for the inspection by the creditors and contributories of the company of its books and papers as the court thinks just, and any books and papers in the possession of the company may be inspected by the creditors or contributories in conformity with the order of the court, but not otherwise.

XLI. In the event of any company being wound up under this Act, all debts payable on a contingency and all claims against the company, present or future, certain or contingent, ascertained or sounding only in damages, shall be admissible to proof against the company, a just estimate being made, so far as possible, of the value of all such debts or claims as may be subject to any contingency, or sound only in damages or for some other reason do not bear a certain value; and in proving or claiming debts against any company in course of winding up under this Act, save where it is herein otherwise provided, the principles regulating the proof of debts in case of the judicial insolvency of any individual shall, so far as may be, be followed and observed.

XLII. The liquidators may, with the sanction of the court, pay any classes of creditors in full, or make such compromise or other arrangement as they may deem expedient with creditors, or persons claiming to be creditors, or persons having or alleging themselves to have a claim, present or future, certain or contingent, ascertained or sounding only in damages, against the company, or whereby the company may be rendered liable.

XLIII. The liquidators may, with the sanction of the court, compromise all calls and liability to calls, debts and liabilities capable of resulting in debts, and all claims, whether present or future, certain or contingent, ascertained or sounding only in damages, subsisting or supposed to subsist between the company and any contributory, or alleged contributory, or other debtor or person apprehending liability to the company, and all questions in any way relating to or affecting the assets of the company, or the winding up of the company, upon the receipt of such sums, payable at such times and generally upon such terms as may be agreed upon, with power for the liquidators to take any security for the discharge of such debts or liabilities and to give complete discharges in respect of all or any such calls, debts, or liabilities.

XLIV. Where any company is being wound up under this Act, any attachment, sequestration, distress, or execution put in force against the estate or effects of the company after the commencement of the winding up shall be void to all intents.

XLV. Any alienation, transfer, cession, delivery of goods, mortgage, or pledge of any goods or effects, movable or immovable, personal or real, and any payment of money which would, if made or done by or against any private person, be deemed in the event of his insolvency to have been made or done by way of undue preference, as the same is defined in the eighty-fourth and eighty-fifth sections of Ordinance No. 6 of 1843, entitled "Ordinance for regulating the due Collection, Administration and Distribution of Insolvent Estates within this Colony," shall, if made or done by or against any company be deemed, in the event of such company being wound up under this Act, to have been made or done by way of undue preference of the creditors of such company, and shall be invalid accordingly; and for the purposes of this section the presentation of a petition for winding up a company shall be deemed to correspond with the order for the compulsory sequestration of the estate of a private person under the fifth section of the Ordinance No. 6 of 1843 aforesaid; and any conveyance or assignment made by any company of all its estate and effects to trustees for the benefit of its creditors shall be void to all intents.

XLVI. Where, in the course of winding up any company under this Act, it appears that any past or present director, manager, official or other liquidator, or any officer of such company, has misapplied or retained in his own hands, or become liable or accountable for any moneys of the company, or been guilty of any misfeasance or breach of trust in relation to the company, the court may, on the application of any liquidator, or of any creditor or contributory of the company, notwithstanding that the offence is one for which the offender is criminally responsible, examine into the conduct of such director, manager, or other officer, and compel him to repay any moneys so misapplied or retained, or for which he has become liable or accountable, together with interest at such rate as the court thinks just, or to contribute such sums of money to the assets of the company, by way of compensation in respect of misapplication, retainer, misfeasance, or breach of trust, as the court thinks just.

XLVII. If any director, officer, or contributory of any company wound up under this Act destroys, mutilates, alters, or falsifies any books, papers, writings, or securities, or makes, or is privy to the making of, any false or fraudulent entry in any register, book of account, or other document belonging to the company, with intent to defraud or deceive any person, every person so offending shall, upon conviction, be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding ————, with or without hard labour.

XLVIII. Where any order is made for winding up a company under this Act, if it appear in the course of such winding up that any past or present director, manager, officer, or member of such company has been guilty of any offence in relation to the company for which he is criminally responsible, the court may, on the application of any person interested in such winding up, or of its own motion, direct the official liquidators to institute and conduct a prosecution or prosecutions for such offence, and may order the costs and expenses to be paid out of the assets of the company.

XLIX. If any person, upon any examination upon oath or affirmation under this Act, or in any affidavit, deposition, or solemn affirmation in or about the winding up of any company under this Act, or otherwise in or about any matter arising under this Act, wilfully and corruptly gives false evidence, he shall, upon conviction, be liable to the penalties of wilful perjury.

L. The court may in the course of any winding up, in any case in which it shall see fit, direct that meetings shall be held, either of the creditors or contributories, or of both, and may direct that the votes shall be taken either in person or by proxy, and may direct that the majority may be estimated either by number or value, or by both, and may generally direct what shall be submitted to any such meeting, and how the proceedings thereof shall be carried on, and who shall preside thereat, but shall not be bound by any resolution of any such meeting.

LI. The court may, as often as circumstances require, make such rules concerning the mode of proceeding to be had for winding up a company as may from time to time seem necessary.

BILL

TO

Amend the Ordinance No. 105, entitled "Ordinance for providing for the due Administration and Management of the Estates and Property of Minors, Lunatics, and Persons absent from the Colony, and for the proper care of the Persons of Minors and Lunatics," with regard to the Rate of Interest payable by the Master of the Supreme Court upon Moneys lodged in the Guardians' Fund.

Between SARAH SWIFT (born GEES), of Graham's Town, Plaintiff, in forma pauperis, and DANIEL SWIFT, Defendant.

PLAINTIFF'S INTENDIT.

WHEREAS the said Plaintiff made application to this Honourable Court on the 14th day of December, 1867, for leave to summon the said Defendant, DANIEL SWIFT, her Husband, formerly of Graham's Town, but now supposed to be in the territory of the Orange Free State, or elsewhere beyond the jurisdiction of this Court and the Courts of the said Colony, by process of Edictal Citation, to appear, either in person or by proxy, to show cause why the bonds of marriage heretofore and now existing between him and the said SARAH SWIFT, his Wife, should not by order of this Honourable Court be dissolved by reason that the said DANIEL SWIFT did wrongfully, during the said marriage, at Graham's Town, to wit, on or about the 8th July, 1866, commit adultery with a certain Hottentot woman, whose name is to the said SARAH SWIFT unknown, and further to show cause, if any, why she should not be declared at liberty, if so minded, to contract another marriage, and to have such further or other relief in the premises as to this Court should seem expedient in the premises, with costs.

And whereas the said Court did summon the said Defendant to appear, either in person or by proxy, on the 12th January, 1868, at Graham's Town, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any, why the bonds of marriage heretofore and now existing between him and the said SARAH SWIFT, his Wife, should not by order of this Court be dissolved, by reason that the said DANIEL SWIFT did wrongfully, during the said marriage, at Graham's Town, to wit, on or about the 8th July, 1866, commit adultery with a certain Hottentot woman, whose name to the said SARAH SWIFT is unknown, and further to show cause, if any, why she should not be declared, if so minded, to contract another marriage, and have such further or other relief in the premises as to the said Court shall seem expedient in the premises, with costs; and the said Defendant not appearing to the said Summons, the said SARAH SWIFT, by her Advocate, requested the first default with the profit thereof, and a second Summons.

And whereas the said Court granted the first default with the profit thereof, and did summon the defaulter for the second time by Public Edict to appear in the said Court on the 29th February, 1868, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to purge his first default, and further to hear such claim and conclusion as the said Plaintiff shall think fit and proper to make, without the said Defendant or any person on his behalf having appeared, in consequence whereof the said Plaintiff, by her Advocate, requested the second default with the profit thereof, and a third Summons.

And whereas this Court granted the second default and the profit thereof, and did summon the said defaulter for the third time by Public Edict to appear on the 15th May, 1868, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to show wherefore the Plaintiff's aforesaid prayer should not be granted, without the said Defendant or any one on his behalf having appeared, in consequence whereof the said Plaintiff, by her Advocate, requested the third default with the profit thereof, and prayed the said Court to grant to her, the Plaintiff, leave to issue her Intendit and notice of trial of the aforesaid cause; and whereas the said Court granted the third default with the profit thereof, with leave to issue and publish her Intendit and notice of trial, as prayed:

Now, thererefore, by reason of the premises, the said Plaintiff, by her Attorney, GEORGE GREATBATCH WRIGHT, comes into Court and says that in or about the 10th January, 1869, and at King William's Town, she, the Plaintiff, then SARAH GEES, and the Defendant were lawfully married, which marriage the Plaintiff says still subsists; and the Plaintiff further says that afterwards, and before the commencement of this suit, to wit, on or about the 8th July, 1866, and at Graham's Town, the Defendant committed adultery and had carnal intercourse with a certain Hottentot woman, whose name is to the said Plaintiff unknown.

And the said Plaintiff says that by reason of such act of adultery an action has accrued to the said Plaintiff to demand a dissolution of the bonds of marriage now subsisting between herself and the Defendant.

Wherefore the Plaintiff prays that the said marriage may by decree of this Honourable Court be declared to be dissolved, and that the Plaintiff may also be at liberty, if so minded, to contract another marriage; and that she may have such further and other relief in the premises as to this Honourable Court shall seem meet, with costs of suit.

I. That it shall be competent for the resident magistrates within the Colony, upon the prosecution before them of any of the offences by servants and apprentices, as set out in the Act No. 15 of 1856, on the conviction of any servant or apprentice of any such offence punishable under the said Act, to have the alternative of imposing a fine not exceeding, in any case, the sum of ten pounds sterling, as to the resident magistrate convicting shall seem meet and consonant with justice.

II. That all wages and emoluments due to servants and apprentices shall be recovered in a summary manner by complaint preferred by any such servant or apprentice to the resident magistrate having jurisdiction, setting forth the amount and particulars of any such claim; and thereupon the said resident magistrate shall cause a copy of such complaint to be served upon the employer of such servant and apprentice, and summon him or her to attend before the court of the said resident magistrate to appear and answer the same; and the said resident magistrate shall hear and determine upon any such claim, and shall, at his discretion, be permitted to allocate and allow to any servant or apprentice making any such claim such further sum as shall, in the opinion of the said resident magistrate, be fair and equitable to allow as compensation for any loss or damage the said servant or apprentice shall show to have sustained by the improperly withholding of such wages and emoluments, not exceeding, in any case, the sum of five pounds sterling.

TO

Amend in certain respects the Act No. 20 or 1856, "For Amending and Consolidating the Laws relative to the Courts of Resident Magistrates."

(Introduced into the House of Assembly by G. GAIN, Esq., M.L.A.)

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Act No. 20 of 1856, entituled "An Act for Amending and Consolidating the Laws relative to the Courts of Resident Magistrates," so far as regards the admission and enrolment of persons to practise as agents in such courts, and the tariffs of fees to be taken by the officers of the said courts and the charges to be made by the enrolled agents practising therein, and of the allowance to witnesses for their attendance thereat, and of their travelling expenses: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows; to wit:

I. So much of the said Act No. 20 of 1856 as shall be repugnant to or inconsistent with this Act is hereby repealed.

II. After the taking effect of this Act, no person shall be entitled to be admitted and enrolled as an agent in any of the resident magistrates' courts unless he shall have obtained one of the certificates in law and jurisprudence mentioned in the sixteenth section of Act No. 4, 1858, or shall have previously served under contract for a period of three years to an agent duly admitted and enrolled in one of the said courts, and shall have passed an examination as to his qualification so to be admitted and enrolled by two attorneys of the Supreme Court or the Court of the Eastern Districts or circuit courts, or two enrolled agents of any resident magistrate's court of seven years' standing, to be nominated and appointed for that purpose by the resident magistrate for the district in which court such person shall apply to be admitted and enrolled.

III. That every such contract as in the last section mentioned shall within one month after the execution thereof be filed of record with the clerk of the resident magistrate of the district in which the agent to whom the said clerk shall be contracted shall reside. And that previous to the admission and enrolment of any person as an agent under this Act, a notice, of at least fourteen days, shall be given of his intention to apply to be so admitted and enrolled by advertisement in the Government Gazette, and by affixing a notice at some conspicuous place at the court-room of the resident magistrate for the district in which such person intends to apply to be admitted and enrolled.

IV. I. For demand made by letter by the agent before summons £0 2 0

1. Every demand of any debt or sum of money shall specify a day on or before which the defendant shall be at liberty to pay or satisfy the demand to the agent, which day shall not be sooner than a day which might, by the 10th rule of the courts of resident magistrates, be specified for the appearance in court of the defendant in case the demand had been a summons.

Digitized by Google

2. Every such demand shall also inform the defendant that if the sum demanded shall be paid or satisfied on or before the day specified, together with the sum of 2s. for the said demand, no further proceedings will be taken in the case.

3. Such demand may be made by letter sent through the post office, prepaid and properly directed; and in that case the fee aforesaid shall include the postage; and the day to be specified as aforesaid in the demand shall be fixed upon the presumption that the demand will come to the hands of the defendant upon the day next after the day upon which, according to the course of post, the letter containing such demand will reach the post office from which it is to be delivered.

4. No demand which shall not, in substance, conform to the three preceding rules or clauses shall be capable of being charged for against the defendant.

II. For every authority to sue, filed in court £0 1 6

1. This fee shall only be payable in case the authority shall, after the day specified in the demand, and before any tender of payment of debt and costs made by the defendant, have been filed with the clerk of the court.

III. For every original summons against any defendant prepared by the agent £0 2 6

IV. For every copy of such summons made by the agent for service 0 1 0

1. The fee for the summons and the fee for the copy of the summons shall, respectively, include the allowance for the copy of any document which, by the 10th rule of the courts of the resident magistrates, it shall be necessary to serve upon the defendant, together with the summons; with this exception, however, that if any such document, not being a bill of exchange, promissory note, or "good-for," shall be of such necessary length as reasonably to require that it should be paid for, then the resident magistrate may, when on or after giving judgment, allow for any such copy any sum not exceeding 2s. 6d.

Copies of bills of exchange, promissory notes, and "good-fors" shall in no case be charged for.

2. In case the defendant shall, after summons served, and before the day of hearing, desire to pay or satisfy the debt and costs of the plaintiff, and a question shall arise as to whether any fee should be paid by the defendant to the agent for any copy of any document served with the summons, then both parties shall, before proceeding further, refer the matter to the decision of the resident magistrate, who shall, upon inspection of the document or other information regarding it, decide in or out of court whether any, or, if so, what fee should be payable by the defendant in regard to such copy, and whose decision shall be final.

V. As often as the defendant shall, after summons issued, and before the day of hearing, seek to settle the case by paying debt and costs, then there shall be included in the costs necessary to be paid or tendered, as a fee for giving notice to the clerk of the court of the withdrawal of the case £0 1 0

VI. For every original summons requiring the attendance of witnesses 0 1 0

3. If, where the plaintiff's claim is upon a liquid document, the defendant pleads compensation or makes counter-claim, but not upon a liquid document, the agent shall be entitled to the fee fixed for illiquid cases.

4. When, on the day appointed for the hearing, the case shall by consent of both parties be postponed till some future day without having been entered upon, no agent's fee shall be allowed in respect of such postponement.

5. When, in such a case as is described in the last preceding rule or clause, the postponement shall be sought by the defendant only, and the plaintiff shall not consent to such postponement, the resident magistrate shall, unless cause to the contrary shall be shown by the defendant, allow the agent as a fee for his attendance one half of the fee which would have been payable to him had the case, instead of being postponed, been, on the day appointed for the hearing, heard and determined.

6. The rules or clauses Nos. 4 and 5 shall also apply as often as any case shall be postponed to a future day after having been partly heard.

7. Rules or clauses Nos. 4 and 5 shall also apply to second or subsequent postponements; but no matter what the number of postponements, the agent shall not be entitled to more than double the fee which he would have been entitled to had the case been heard and determined upon the day originally appointed for the hearing thereof.

8. As often as neither party shall request a postponement of the further hearing of the case, but the court shall of its own motion, and for its own satisfaction, direct a postponement for further evidence, no fee shall be claimable by the agent in respect of such postponement, unless the court, regard being had to the nature of such further evidence, and the party who should have been provided with it, shall direct that such a fee as is in rule or clause No. 4 specified shall be paid by the defendant.

IX. In regard to judgments merely provisional in their nature, as in the 28th rule of the courts of resident magistrates mentioned, then, for every bond given for security de restituendo £0 1 0

XIII. For making out and attending the taxation of any bill of costs £0 1 0

1. No warrant of execution against movables shall be issued until the costs of the party suing out the same shall have been taxed, or else given up and abandoned.

1. I. In all cases in which the sum recovered by the plaintiff, or accepted by the plaintiff before judgment, in satisfaction of his demand, shall not exceed two pounds sterling, then the fees and charges payable by the defendant to the plaintiff's agent (in case the plaintiff shall be allowed his costs) shall be one half of the fees and charges which would have been payable in case the said sum had been two pounds sterling or upwards.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 29th June, 1868.

IN the course of a correspondence which has lately taken place respecting the seizure of a quantity of Gin by the Officers of the Customs at Cape Town, it has been represented by the Importers that, in order to avoid trouble to the Officers in making repayment of the extra Duty, it was, at some time, mutually agreed between the Merchants and the Collector of Customs that a quantity of Spirits less than that stated in the Invoice should be entered, with a view to a Post Entry after the Spirits had been gauged.

His Excellency the Governor, therefore, directs it to be notified that, in future, Importers will be expected to make their Entries and pay the Duties in strict conformity with the Law and with their Invoices, and to make application in due course for the refund of any Duty which may subsequently be ascertained to have been overpaid.

The penalties for incorrect Entries will, in future, be fully enforced; and any Officer of the Customs hereafter conniving at the practice above described will be liable to be removed from his office.

BILL

FOR

Further facilitating the Naturalization of certain Aliens.

(Transmitted to the House of Assembly by His Excellency the Governor.)

WHEREAS by an Ordinance numbered 2 of the year 1865, given at King William's Town on the 27th day of June, 1865, entitled "An Ordinance to facilitate the Naturalization of certain Aliens," it was intended to facilitate the naturalization of certain German immigrants and members of the late British German Legion who have resided in these territories for several years, and who during such residence have conducted themselves well and loyally: And whereas by the operation of Act No. 3 of the year 1865, entitled "An Act to make provision for the Incorporation of British Kaffraria with the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, and to increase the number of the Members of both Houses of Parliament of the said Colony," the said Ordinance has, to some extent, failed of its effect: And whereas it is desirable that such persons as aforesaid may be enabled, should they so desire, to obtain letters of naturalization without payment of the fee now by law required upon obtaining such letters: Be it enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. The Governor is hereby authorized and empowered, if he shall think fit, to grant, under the public seal of this Colony, letters of naturalization in this Colony, free of charge, to all German immigrants and members of the late British German Legion (being aliens) who shall apply to the Governor for the same; provided the applicant shall have attained the full age of twenty-one years, shall be of good character, and shall have resided within these territories during the five years immediately preceding the date of the aforesaid Ordinance: Provided, however, that no letters of naturalization shall be granted to any person who shall be an unrehabilitated insolvent, or who shall be of unsound mind, or who shall have been convicted and sentenced for treason, murder, arson, rape, theft, housebreaking, receiving stolen property, fraud, perjury, or forgery.

II. III. When and as soon as letters of naturalization shall have been obtained by any alien under this Act, he shall be bound to take the oath of allegiance to Her Majesty, which oath any judge of the Supreme Court, or any resident magistrate or justice of the peace within this Colony, is hereby authorized to administer; and upon taking such oath the alien shall, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, be deemed, taken, and esteemed to be naturalized in this Colony, and to be in the same plight and condition in all respects as if he had been born therein.

IV. The magistrate or justice of the peace before whom any oath of allegiance is taken as aforesaid shall forthwith transmit the same to the Master of the Supreme Court, to be by him preserved of record; and the Master, as soon as he shall receive the same, or, when taken before a judge, forthwith thereafter, shall, by a notice to be published in the Government Gazette, announce that the said oath has been deposited in his office, pursuant to this Act.

V. Every letter of naturalization granted under this Act shall be admissible in evidence without proof of the signature or seal authenticating the same, and shall be primâ facie evidence of the person named therein being duly naturalized, and of the signature or seal authenticating the same, and of all the matters contained or recited therein, and of the official character of the person appearing to have signed the same.

VI. If any alien applying for letters of naturalization in the manner hereinbefore described shall wilfully make any false statement in the application made by him, the rights, capacities, and privileges granted by the said letters of naturalization shall absolutely cease and determine, and he shall incur the same penalties as by law provided against persons convicted of wilful and corrupt perjury, including the disability hereinbefore enacted in the first section of this Act.

PRIVATE ACT.

NOTICE.

King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited).

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made to the Colonial Parliament, during its present Session, for an Act of which a Copy is subjoined.

Dated at Cape Town, this 18th day of June, 1868.

EDWD. HULL,
Attorney for the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited).

BILL

FOR

Permitting certain Lands now standing enregistered in the Names of the Trustees of the, King William's Town Stud Farm Company and the King William's Town Grand Stand and Race Course Company, to be transferred to the Trustees of a certain Company called the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), freed from the Conditions and Restrictions mentioned and contained in the Grants of the said Lands, respectively, and for other purposes.

WHEREAS John Maclean, Esq., C.B., formerly Lieutenant-Governor of the Territories of British Kaffraria, &c., did, on the 24th day of February, 1863, grant on freehold unto John Clarke Perks, George Bellamy Christian, and George Prescott Perks, in their capacity as trustees of the King William's Town Grand Stand and Race Course Company, a piece of land containing two acres three roods and six-sixteenth poles, situate between King William's Town and Fort Murray, in the Territories of British Kaffraria, on the condition that no part of the said land should be alienated or disposed of without the consent of the Government first had and obtained, and that the same should be bonâ fide kept or used for the purposes for which the said company had been formed, and no other: And whereas, on the 30th day of November, 1863, the said John Maclean, Esq., as such Lieutenant-Governor, granted to the said trustees, o freehold, another piece of land, containing six hundred and nineteen and two-twelfth acres, more or less, situated near King William's Town, with similar conditions to those hereinbefore mentioned: And whereas on the 6th day of January, 1866, His Honour Robert Graham, Esq., Governor's Deputy of the Territories of British Kaffraria, &c., granted in freehold unto John Spyron, the younger, George Bellamy Christian, and George Prescott Perks, as trustees of the King William's Town Stud Farm Company, a piece of land containing nine hundred acres, or thereabouts, situated in the King William's Town Division, with similar conditions to those hereinbefore mentioned: And whereas the said two companies have disposed of all their right, title, and interest in and to the said three freehold grants of lands unto the King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), which lastmentioned company has already expended a large sum of money —to wit, a sum of twelve thousand pounds sterling, and upwards,—in and upon buildings, machinery, imported stock, and materials, now upon the said lands; and purposes, when a sufficient and proper title to the said lands has been obtained to the said company, freed and discharged from the existing restrictions, to carry on very extensive farming, breeding, and other operations in and upon the said lands, and especially to establish a depôt for the shipment of horses to India: And whereas it is expedient that such an undertaking should be encouraged, and that any prohibitions or restrictions which might tend to encumber the operations of the said company should be removed: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of the Cape of Good Hope, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly thereof, as follows:

I. It shall be lawful for the said Governor to grant, as of new, in freehold, or subject to such reasonable annual quitrent as he may see fit to impose, the said three pieces of land in the division of King William's Town, unto Andrew Lawrie, Esquire, of 10, Charles-street, St. James's-square, London; James Hall, Esquire, Naval and Military Club, London; and Robert Hay Murray, Esquire, of West-hall, Byfleet, in the County of Surrey, England, as the trustees of the said King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), or the trustees of the said company for the time being, and their assigns; and such grants, as of new, shall be free from any stipulations or restrictions other than those commonly provided or contained in freehold or quitrent grants in this Colony. And thereupon the said three grants of the 24th February and 30th November, 1863, and 6th January, 1866, shall be cancelled.

II. The said Governor may, if he shall see fit, grant on a similar tenure unto the said trustees, or the trustees for the time being, of the said King William's Town Stock and Produce Company (Limited), or their assigns, a piece of land on the Thomas River, in the division of Queen's Town, not exceeding in extent five thousand acres, for the purpose of enabling the said company to form a depôt, at a spot free from horse-sickness, for the rearing of young horses for the India market, and for washing wool, and other purposes.

III. All custom duties which might by any law now existing be chargeable upon machinery, implements, pipes for irrigation, and other materials imported by the said company, and used bonâ fide for the purposes of their improvements and general operations, and not for sale or barter, shall be, and the same are hereby remitted.

TO MASONS.
